

This must surely be the world's easiest game of I-Spy. I'm spying, with my little eye, something beginning with 'H' from the illustration below. To make things a little harder, I'm only going to allow you one guess.

So, make your choice then look up the word I'm thinking of in the answers section.

