

BOOK LAUNCH

Interrogating the New Economy: Restructuring Work in the 21st Century

Edited by Norene J.
Pupo & Mark P. Thomas

Date: Thursday, March 25, 2010

Time: 3 - 5 p.m.

Location: 626 York Research Tower

Refreshments will be provided.

Speakers:

Greg Albo, Political Science, York U · Steve Tufts, Geography, York U · Andie Noack, Sociology, Ryerson U · Linda Briskin, Women's Studies, York U · Naveen P. Mehta, United Food and Commercial Workers · Angelo DiCarlo, Canadian Auto Workers · Alan Sears, Sociology, Ryerson U

Sponsors:

Centre for Research on Work and Society · Dept of Sociology · Graduate Program in Sociology · Graduate Program in Social and Political Thought · Graduate Program in Women's Studies · Labour Studies Program · Gender and Work Database · Centre for Feminist Research · York U Staff Association (YUSA) · University of Toronto Press

About the Book:

This collection of original essays investigates the social, political, and economic transformations associated with the emergence of the so-called new economy, and their impact on the organization of work within Canada.

Paperback $37.95 ISBN: 978-1-44260-055-3

University of Toronto Press

Tel: (519) 837-1403 Fax: (519) 767-1643

Email: requests@utphighereducation.com

For more information visit www.utphighereducation.com