SPECIAL FEATURES

Prerequisite/Co-requisite: Although previous experience of the repertoire learned for this course is not required, it is expected that non-music majors can sing in tune or play an instrument, and that they have some familiarity with musical notation.

Expanded Course Description: This course offers practical instruction in selected traditional (folk), classical, and popular vocal and instrumental music from the rich and varied regions of the Balkans such as Bulgaria, Bosnia, Croatia, Macedonia, Serbia, Turkey, the music of the Roma from the afore-mentioned musical cultures as well as Kurdish, Armenian, and Azeri Turkish repertoire. For example, compositions by established local composers who rework and draw from regional rural repertoires in their works will be learned together with village music and popular styles that are imbued with local flavor. Vocal and instrumental styles and techniques characteristic of the regions will be taught gradually so that students will master them with greater facility by the end of a year of practice and performance.

TOPICS and CONCEPTS

Course Text/Readings: Scores to various pieces will be handed out in class, while other repertoire will be learned by rote. A recording device would be a useful tool for reviewing repertoire between classes and is encouraged. Additional Resources: Recordings will be made available for study purposes on Moodle which you should check regularly for important information.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

As this is a performance course, there are no written assignments. Performance evaluations are based on your individual development as displayed in class over the term in terms of technique, rhythmic and melodic skills, ensemble sensibilities, and command of the prescribed parts for the repertoire. Barring exceptional circumstances, there is no individual testing. Everyone is expected to be available for occasional performances outside class time and to help move instruments for these performances.

GRADED ASSESSMENT

Final performance 30% (This will take place during the World Music Festival in March – TBA) Attendance, participation, 70% (Students are expected to be able to sing in tune and to learn parts) team work, and individual development

Attendance Policy:
It is expected that students arrive on time and attend each class, rehearsal, and concert so that the ensemble functions well. If your presence in class or at a performance or rehearsal is affected by illness or compassionate grounds, you will need to inform the Course Director in advance and provide supporting documentation (e.g., doctor’s letter). Other plausible reasons need to be discussed or communicated via email in advance in order for the absences to be excused. If you are absent for more than two unexcused absences for class meetings, your grade will be lowered by one-half letter grade (e.g. B+ to B).

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Last date to drop courses without receiving a grade:
Fall: Nov. 10, 2017
Y: Feb. 9, 2018
Winter: March 9, 2018

If you cannot perform for the World Music Festival, do inform the instructor so that arrangements can be made for an alternate means of testing.

"20% Rule"

No examinations or tests collectively worth more than 20% of the final grade in a course will be given during the final 14 calendar days of classes in a term. The exceptions to the rule are classes which regularly meet Friday evenings or on Saturday and/or Sunday at any time, and courses offered in the compressed summer terms.

Final course grades may be adjusted to conform to Program or Faculty grades distribution profiles.
