Special Features

Prerequisite / Co-requisite:
Enrolment is open to the York Community with the permission of the course director.

It is beneficial to have some ability to play the piano and read music but it is essential to be able sing back the pitch of the notes when played on the piano.

For upper level registration, without having participated in 1014 or 2014, the permission of the course director is required and some vocal experience is necessary.

Placement into higher levels 2014, 3014, 4014 is based on previous participation in the course or vocal ability, singing experience and musical background.

On the first day of class, the course director will listen to each student sing a few lines of a simple song to assess their voice and pitch ability and thus confirm their level placement.
Expanded Course Description: This course is a classical vocal performance class for non-majors with the practical study of vocal technique and classical voice repertoire culminating in live concert performances each term. Attendance, punctuality, class participation and working together in ensembles and as a team as well as the study and performance of classical solo voice repertoire is an integral part of this course.

TOPICS AND CONCEPTS

Topics and Organization:

Course Textbook: Required

The text –book with the CD is central to the course work in the classroom and personal study. The student will perform his studied repertoire in a live performance in concert in ensembles and solo songs at the end of the fall and winter term.

The Textbook is required for class as the songs given to students to learn will be taken from this book and also the required course readings listed in the topic outline are also from this book. This Book comes with a CD. It is recommended to use the CD.

Class term Work 30%

Attendance will be taken and marks will be deducted for unexplained absences and lateness. (1 mark for absence and .5 for lateness after 10 minutes)

In every class students will be marked and the class term grade will be based on the following criteria:

Class Participation: Knowledge and review of information in class.

Preparation of music for class and class assignments.

Each student must learn his music and be prepared to sing in class. Preparation and singing in class is a mandatory part of this course. This is a performance course in which each student will be evaluated on their progress in singing and participation in class from week to week. The student will be marked each class on their attendance, preparation and ability. Musical preparation of a song and attendance is essential to be able to work on the song vocally. Marks will be deducted if not prepared.

Master-class Etiquette and Decorum and Professional Attitude;

It is required to maintain a professional attitude and behavior in class and in a music rehearsal in order to work together.

Students must follow the professional performing decorum requirements.(see below)

All students are required to work in ensembles and sing with other students in class and in performance. The student must therefore respect their responsibility to the other students as well as themselves in the class as everyone is interdependent when performing together.

Assigned readings Each student should read the assigned readings in the topic outline

Character Study: Each student must prepare a character study and work out the dramatic intention and expression and background of his assigned song. The student must be prepared to discuss the prepared background work of the song in class and hand it in on March 6 2019 The character study preparation is 5% of 30% for term work

Diligence and Improvement over the year will be noted and marked

Breath management, resonance, tone production:
Posture, alignment, physical presentation

Performance ability: Expression, Confidence in presentation and commitment to the communication of the song
Missed Tests: All Performance Tests listed above are mandatory and require documentation if the student is absent. Students with a documented reason for missing a course test, such as illness, compassionate grounds, etc., which is confirmed by supporting documentation (e.g., doctor’s letter) may request accommodation from the Course Instructor. If ill on the day of a test, a student with documentation must do a live makeup performance the following week or a date stipulated by the course director. No videotape is allowed as a make up singing test. Further extensions or accommodation will require students to submit a formal petition to the Faculty. If the student cannot provide documentation they will receive 0% for that test.

Lateness penalty: Proper academic performance depends on students doing their work not only well, but on time. Accordingly, assignments for this course must be received on the due date specified for the assignment and handed into the professor in class on the due date. Assignments received later than the due date will be penalized one mark per day. Exceptions to the lateness penalty for valid reasons such as illness, compassionate grounds, etc., may be entertained by the Course Instructor but will require supporting documentation (e.g., a doctor’s letter).

Grading: The grading scheme for the course conforms to the 9-point grading system used in undergraduate programs at York (e.g., A+ = 9, A = 8, B+ = 7, C+ = 5, etc.). Assignments and tests* will bear either a letter grade designation or a corresponding number grade (e.g. A+ = 90 to 100, A = 80 to 90, B+ = 75 to 79, etc.) (For a full description of York grading system see the York University Undergraduate Calendar - http://calendars.registrar.yorku.ca/2010-2011/academic/index.htm

All Tests listed below and all Dress Rehearsals and Performances are mandatory and require documentation if the student is absent. A documented missed test must be made up in class as a live performance the following week or as agreed upon with the course director

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Additional Information:
Observing the Attitude of Professional Musical Decorum in Rehearsal and Performance
Attendance is essential as you must rehearse with the other students and with the professor in order to perform. If the student is sick and cannot attend class, they must inform the professor before the class by email -stephanie.bogle@sympatico.ca
Punctuality and being on time for class is required so as not to disturb the class and rehearsal.
No texting or cell phone use is allowed in class. You may record the music of your song with the accompanist
Setup: At the beginning of class, the students will clear space in the classroom and set up chairs in a round half circle toward the piano and then sit down and be ready to take attendance and sing as in a rehearsal.
Decorum: There can be no talking when a professor is speaking, conducting the master-class or when students are singing in class.
No student should enter or leave the room when someone is singing in master-class. The student must wait until they finish singing.
Students must have permission to leave class early or arrive late and must obtain approval of the professor beforehand to do so.

Singing Assignments: Students will be assigned as individual songs and ensembles to learn, practice and sing in class. Students will be assigned songs to sing by the instructor at a performance level suited to the student and designated course level of 1014/ 2014/ 3014/ 4014.
The student will receive individual instruction in class and marks will be given for preparation of the song and the ability to sing it. Marks will be deducted if not prepared and the music is not learnt. The student must work on their own outside of class with the CD to learn the song and be prepared for class as well as in class preparation.

Practice time: It is necessary for the student to practice their voice and songs. It is best to practice at least half an hour a day to develop vocal strength. Students may use the practice rooms on ACE second floor and go to ACE music office to ask for a practice room key.

Last date to drop course without receiving a grade is Feb 8, 2019

Academic Policies / Information

The Senate Academic Standards, Curriculum and Pedagogy (ASCP) provides a Student Information Sheet that includes:

- York's Academic Honesty Policy and Procedures / Academic Integrity Web site
- Access/Disability
