

Preface

This is the twenty-third version of the Fact Book. Our objective in publishing the Fact Book is to provide the university community with a summary of institutional data to meet a broad range of information needs. For our Fact Book to be successful we have to rely on the reader to tell us where it needs improvement.

My sincere thanks are extended to the many people across campus who have offered their time, their information, and their patience towards this effort.

A special thanks is extended to Connie Vince who has had the task of pulling together the information and assembling this document.
