The Faculty of Health New Student Handbook provides all newly admitted students with an overview of the necessary information on course selection, enrolment, and registration.

There are two types of newly admitted students:

First Year Students - Admitted with no transfer credit into the first year of study. Some courses will require that you have completed specific high-school credits to ensure you have the necessary background to succeed.

Transfer Students - Admitted with transfer credit. Your year level of study is determined by the number of transfer credits granted.

If you are expecting to receive transfer credit, your assessment will be completed after you have booked your enrolment appointment. In some cases, not all transfer credit received can be used to fulfill degree requirements and you may be required to complete additional credits. Your advisor will discuss your transfer credit in detail during your enrolment appointment.

This Handbook will also provide you with a summary of some of the key information you will need as you progress toward completing your degree at York University.

It will help you understand the University’s academic and administrative structure, policies and procedures, describe the academic programs offered in the Faculty of Health and tell you about the student services and facilities available to you. Keep this Handbook as an important resource as you navigate through your years in the Faculty of Health.

Important Note: The material contained within this Handbook has been submitted by academic units and administrative departments. All general information and course references have been checked for accuracy, but there may be inconsistencies or errors. York reserves the right to make changes to the information contained in this Handbook or the Undergraduate Calendar without prior notice. By the act of registration, each student becomes bound by the policies and regulations of York University, including the Faculty in which the student is registered.

Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the general information, rules and regulations contained in the York University Undergraduate Calendar and with the specific information, rules and regulations of the Faculty or Faculties in which they are registered or enrolled or seeking registration or enrolment, as well as the specific requirements of each degree, diploma or certificate sought. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that the courses chosen are appropriate to the program requirements.

Not every course listed in this Handbook or Undergraduate Calendar will necessarily be offered in any academic year. York reserves the right to limit the number of students who enrol in any program or course. While reasonable efforts will be made to offer courses as required within programs, admission to a program does not guarantee admission to any given course.

If there is an inconsistency between the general academic regulations and policies published in this Handbook or in the York University Undergraduate Calendar and such regulations and policies as established by resolution of a Faculty or of the University Senate, the version of such material as it is established by a Faculty or the University Senate will prevail.

York University disclaims all responsibility and liability for loss or damage suffered or incurred by any student or other party as a result of delays in or termination of its services, courses, or classes by reason of force majeure, fire, flood, riots, war, strikes, lock-outs, damage to University property, financial exigency or other events beyond the reasonable control of the University.

York University disclaims any and all liability for damages arising as a result of errors, interruptions or disruptions to operations or connected with its operations or its campuses, arising out of computer failure or non-compliance of its computing systems.

Schools and Department
The Faculty of Health is comprised of four academic units: the School of Health Policy and Management, the School of Kinesiology and Health Science, the School of Nursing and the Department of Psychology.
They offer many exciting options and academic programs, as well as opportunities to conduct research and pursue graduate studies.

School of Health Policy and Management
The School of Health Policy and Management is the only one of its kind. Its unique team of researchers and educators explores health from an interdisciplinary perspective to provide you with a comprehensive understanding of current health care challenges. While you can choose to major in one of three disciplines — Health Management, Health Policy or Health Informatics — you will benefit from an integrated exploration of all three.

The School of Health Policy and Management offers a distinct approach to health and social systems education. The School focuses on themes that address the organization and management of Canadian and international health systems, and the concerns of sub-populations within them.

By combining insights from many different fields such as political science, sociology, management, medicine and engineering, the School of Health Policy and Management has become a leader in changing the way that people think about health. The School has been in the forefront of promoting the idea that health is the product of the way that society functions rather than looking at health as solely the outcome of what individuals do. It has championed the move from treating illness to preventing illness and from looking at health care in a fragmented way to viewing all the different aspects as parts of a whole.

Whether you choose a career on the front line or in administrative roles, you will gain the skills and understanding to help health organizations shape the future of health care in a meaningful way.
School of Kinesiology and Health Science
Students majoring in Kinesiology and Health Science study those biological, behavioural, physical and sociocultural disciplines which are integral to understanding the significance of physical activity for human health, health sciences, and society. Our program is one of the largest and most diversified programs of its kind in Canada, offering a wide range of program options, academic electives and practicum courses. Our graduates are well qualified to pursue careers in the health and rehabilitation, fitness and sports, teaching and coaching sectors as well as subsequent graduate level training in research and regulated health professions such as physiotherapy, medicine, chiropractic, dentistry, etc.

School of Nursing
The School of Nursing offers you an innovative teaching approach that goes beyond a purely medical model to focus on the development of the theoretical, scientific and philosophical knowledge of human caring.
Today, society is calling for fundamental changes to our understanding of the meaning of health, the role of healthcare practitioners, and the purpose of healthcare systems. This has resulted in an increasing demand for healthcare services and practitioners that focus on the experiences of human beings in a way that respects patients’ values and choices about health and quality of life.
We will prepare you to be an influential voice in this important time of transition.

Department of Psychology
The field of psychology is dedicated to the scientific study of behaviour, including thought, feeling and action, viewed from both social and biological perspectives. Though there is a large component of the field involved in animal research, the main focus is on the human species.
The Undergraduate program offers you an extensive and diverse selection of courses that cover virtually all topics within the discipline, from social psychology to neuroscience. They are taught both in classroom settings and on the Internet, by a teaching faculty of award winning teachers and internationally recognized scholars. There are also evening and summer programs designed for working students who wish to pursue their studies on a part-time basis, and a special program in rehabilitation services administered jointly with Seneca College.

Academic advising is an integral component of your successful academic career at York. The Faculty of Health provides many opportunities through which you can benefit from a personalized approach to the distribution of information.

Academic advising begins at the Office of Student and Academic Services with your enrolment appointment. More information, including what you need to do to prepare for that appointment, what to bring, and how long that appointment will take is included in this Handbook under the section Your Enrolment Appointment. Please review this information carefully in advance of your enrolment appointment.

You are strongly encouraged to seek out other forms of academic support available to you on the York Campus. Academic support may include peer support, learning skills workshops or online resources. Begin your exploration on campus following your advising appointment or by exploring the Current Students Web site.

Student Responsibilities

Every effort is made to ensure that students in the Faculty of Health have access to sound information and individual advice and guidance. Within this context, and within the framework of faculty and program regulations, you are responsible for making your own choices regarding courses and programs.

You are responsible for knowing and fulfilling all degree and program requirements outlined in the York University Undergraduate Calendar. Throughout the academic year, you are not only welcome, but strongly encouraged, to consult the Faculty of Health, Office of Student and Academic Services, professional and/or faculty advisors in your School or Department (see the Faculty of Health Schools and Department section of this Handbook for contact information).

Take special care to ensure that:
• The course(s) you choose do not have a time conflict
• The course(s) you choose meet all requirements for graduation
• The course(s) you choose meet pre-requisites and are not course-credit exclusions of other courses already taken/or courses you have already been given credit for
• You keep yourself informed about your academic performance
• You observe published deadlines, especially add and drop deadlines and financial deadlines
• You maintain the grade point average required to proceed in your degree/program of study
• You read, understand and adhere to the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty
• You read, understand and adhere to the Student Code of Conduct
• Your student information is kept up to date including changes to your name, address, phone number, York e-mail address, etc

Enrolment and Registration

Enrolment and registration are two separate actions and are defined below.

Enrolment: You will enrol by placing yourself in courses (adding courses) using the Registration and Enrolment (REM) system, in accordance with the regulations of the Faculty and its teaching units. You require a Passport York account to access REM system. You will sign up for your Passport York account at your enrolment appointment. See the Steps to Enrolment section of this Handbook.

Once you have access to the online REM system, you will continue to have access to enrol in (add) or withdraw from (drop) courses. There are both academic and financial deadlines for adding and dropping courses. You are responsible for familiarizing yourself with both sets of deadlines available online at: www.registrar.yorku.ca/importantdates/index.htm.

Enrolment deposit: The University imposes payment deadlines. An enrolment deposit of $450 is due within five business days of your initial enrolment (so, within five business days following your enrolment appointment). Deadlines for the payment of remaining academic fees will then follow (see the Steps to Enrolment section of this Handbook).

Registration: You will register by paying tuition fees for courses in which you are enrolled, in accordance with the regulations of the Office of the Registrar. Students who are not registered in a course are not entitled to have their work in the course graded. Students who have not paid a deposit and/or tuition fees will be de-registered from the session.

Your Enrolment Appointment

As a new undergraduate student in the Faculty of Health, you must attend an enrolment appointment. To book your appointment, call the Faculty of Health, Office of Student and Academic Services at 416 736 5299. The appointment booking telephone line opens on April 1. Steps to Enrolment and Registration

Before you are provided enrolment access you must accept your offer of admission at: www.yorku.ca/myfile. Once you have accepted your offer online, you must also book your enrolment appointment. After you have accepted your offer and booked your enrolment appointment you will be eligible to create a Passport York account.

The Steps to Enrolment and Registration guide that follows and other enrolment guides and resources are also available online on the Current Students Web site.

Transfer credit statements can be viewed using MyFile. Students must first log onto MyFile and then select Application Status. If a statement is available, it will appear here.

What is transfer credit?

Transfer credit, also known as “advanced standing”, refers to the number of credit or course equivalents you will be awarded towards your degree at York based on previous (accredited) postsecondary studies. Transfer credit is accessed automatically to all admitted applicants who’ve studied at accredited postsecondary institutions before applying to York. This includes universities, colleges and some advanced secondary school credentials (IB and GCE programs). More information about transfer credit is available online at: www.yorku.ca/web/futurestudents/trans-fercredit/.

Step 1: Create your Passport York account

You will create your Passport York account at your enrolment appointment.

Information about creating your Passport York account is available at: www.yorku.ca/computing/students/accounts/signupinstructions.html

Follow the steps as they are listed. You will be asked to create a Passport York username and password. It is important that you write down what you choose. It is also important to choose your username sensibly, as it will also become your email and lab username. Also, please ensure you set up your security questions and answers.

Once you have both your Passport York username and password, you can access the various online services for students.

More information about what Passport York can do for you is available online at: www.yorku.ca/yorkweb/currentstudents/ppystudents.html

Step 2: Design your conflict-free schedule

Select your Fall/Winter 2009-2010 courses according to your program requirements and/or interests.

1. Go to Courses and Enrolment on the Current Students Web site to view course offerings www.yorku.ca/yorkweb/currentstudents/courses-enrolment/index.html
2. Now click Search Course Timetables and you will see the York Courses Web site. You should also check departmental/supplemental calendars for course restrictions, placement test requirements, special permissions etc.
You now have the detailed course schedule information for the course. See below for descriptions.

Term – The term the course is being offered (i.e. F=fall, Y=full year, W=winter)

Section – The specific course section you have chosen to enrol in (i.e. Section A)

Type – The format the course will be taught (i.e. lecture, correspondence, internet, tutorial, lab)

Day – Day(s) of the week the course is being offered (i.e. MW= Mondays and Wednesdays)

Start Time – The time of day the course begins

Duration – The length of time (in minutes) the course will run

Location – The building code and room number where the course will take place

Catalogue # – a six digit code (alpha/number) you will be required to use to enrol in the course. If there is more than one catalogue number, select the (HH) code if available

Instructor – the Professor teaching the course

Notes/Additional Fees – Some courses may have restrictions or additional fees that students need to be aware of

3. Pick two or three alternative courses/sections/tutorials/labs etc. in case your first choice is full.

4. Build your timetable. Make sure it is conflict free. The registration and enrolment system will not block you from enrolling if there are scheduling conflicts. Map out your class schedule using the timetable worksheet available online at: www.registrar.yorku.ca/pdf/timetables.pdf

Note 1: Many courses have two or more components: a lecture and lab, tutorial or workshop. Make sure you schedule all components into your timetable.

Note 2: Do not enrol in any courses for which you do not meet the prerequisites or restrictions as outlined in the appropriate calendar or departmental publication. If you do, you will be responsible for dropping those courses and you will remain liable for fees based on the time of withdrawal. You should remain in the course only if you have special written permission from the department to do so. Departments may check to determine who does not meet prerequisites/restrictions, but it is your responsibility to drop the course.

Building Your Timetable

Time is a key factor for success at University. In addition to your in-class hours and study time, consider all aspects of your life which put demands on your time and plan your course load accordingly.

Step 3: Check your financial status

To check your student account balance, go to: www.yorku.ca/ osfs/oss. Your balance must be under $75 or you will be blocked from enrolling.

Step 4: Complete your enrolment transactions

1. Login to the Registration and Enrolment Module using your Passport York username and password by clicking on Add/Drop a course located on the Current Students Web site.

You may be blocked at this point from enrolling because:

- You may be logging in incorrectly or you may have used the wrong username and password;
- You are logging on before your enrolment access begins;
- You have outstanding debts of $75 or more to the University;
- The registration and enrolment system is temporarily unavailable;
- It is determined that you have used a computer program or script to access the registration and enrolment system; or you tried to add, exchange or transfer the same course or section, more than 100 times in a 24 hour period

To resolve any questions, please contact Student Client Services at 416 872 9675 (YORK). If the problem involves a Passport York username or password, please contact the Computing and Network Services: Computing Commons, William Small Centre, accounts@yorku.ca or 416 736 5800.

2. Confirm the tuition fee rate currently on your York record and acknowledge the contractual fee agreement. Your fee rate will be either domestic or international. You must agree and click yes to continue. If you do not agree with the tuition fee rate, contact the Student Client Services.

3. Accept the Student Code of Conduct Agreement. All students must accept and abide by York University’s non-academic Student Code of Conduct. If you do not accept the agreement, you will not be able to continue.

4. Confirm your choice of degree program.

If you get this message, read it carefully and make your choice. You must make a choice in order to continue.

5. You can now proceed to enrol. There are four enrolment options:

(a) You can enrol in a course.

Click add a course. Type the catalogue number in the add course field. Click the add course button. The catalogue number, course and title will be displayed. If this is the course you want to add click yes. If you are unable to add the course, you will get an explanation.

(b) You can drop a course. Dropping a course may have a financial impact. Check the refund table.

Click drop a course. Highlight the course you want to drop. Click the drop course button. The course and title will be displayed. If this is the course you want to drop click yes. If you are unable to drop the course, you will get an explanation.

(c) If you are enrolled in a course with a lab, tutorial or section, you can exchange or transfer into a different lab, tutorial or section in the same course, in the same term.

To exchange a course, click the exchange course button. Type the catalogue number of the course you want to exchange to and highlight the course you want to drop. The catalogue number, course and title of both the course you are adding and the course you are dropping will be displayed. If this is the exchange that you want to make, click yes. If you are not able to make the exchange, you will get an explanation.
(d) You can exchange a course you are in for a different course. If you are not able to get into the second course successfully, e.g. it is full, you will still remain enrolled in the first course. If you are successful, the first course will be dropped. Exchanging a course may have a financial impact. Check the refund table.

Click transfer course. Type the catalogue number of the lab, tutorial or section that you want to transfer into. Click the transfer course button. The catalogue number, course and title will be displayed. If this is the course that you want to transfer, then click yes. If you cannot make the transfer, you will get an explanation.

Step 5: Verify your course enrolments
Before you log out, verify your course enrolments and correct any errors. When you are finished, always log out.

Check your completed timetable to ensure that you have not enrolled yourself into any conflicts. It is your responsibility to avoid timetable conflicts.

To see your timetable, go to Courses and Enrolment and then click on Plot my Class Schedule: www.yorku.ca/yorkweb/currentstudents/coursesandenrolment/index.html

Step 6: Pay your fees to secure your registration
An enrolment deposit is required of all students in order to confirm their registration in the session.

• You will be permitted to enrol in courses with an outstanding balance of less than $75; however, you must pay your $450 enrolment deposit within five business days of enrolling and clear any outstanding balance on your account before you will be considered officially enrolled in your courses.

• Please refer to the payment options outlined on the Current Students Web site for the options available to you.

• The University reserves the right to de-enrol you if you do not pay your enrolment deposit and clear your outstanding balance. Spaces in these courses will then be made available to other students. You will be unable to re-enrol in any course that is full.

• After you have paid your enrolment deposit, Student Financial Services will post your student account information online; transaction listings are updated frequently and statements are posted approximately on the 18th of the month. You’ll need your Passport York ID to access your financial information.

Once You’ve Completed Your Enrolment
Now that you have completed your enrolment appointment, there are a number of additional tasks for you to accomplish before your classes start in the Fall. To get you started, we highly recommend a visit to York’s RED Zone (during the Summer period). At RedZone you can learn more about York student life first hand from York University students and arrange to get your YU-Card.

YU-card
The YU-card is the one card you’ll need during your stay at York. It’s your official photo ID and campus debit card. As a York student, the YU-card will be your key to services such as the library services, recreation facilities, exams, printing and photocopying, eating, shopping, student discounts and more. You can use your YU-card as a debit card at a number of locations across campus to quickly and conveniently purchase food, books, supplies and other items while you’re on the go. The YU-card is accepted at the York Bookstore and other retailers. All you need to do is add money to your YU-card account to enjoy the speed and convenience of swiping your YU-card — without any transaction fees.

Getting your YU-card is easy. Bring your student number and one piece of valid government-issued photo ID to the YU-card Office (200 William Small Centre) while you are on campus for your advising appointment. Your photo will be taken and you will receive your card on the spot.

For more information about YU-card services including adding money to your YU-card account, a list of locations that accept the YU-card, current contests and promotions, visit www.yorku.ca/yucard.

York’s RED Zone
Get a head start on your first year by visiting York’s RED Zone (during the Summer period). York’s RED Zone provides access to services, programs and resources you need to jump into University life with confidence and comfort. In the Zone, you’ll meet current students for “inside” advice and find information about parking and transportation, College affiliation and College-hosted events, Orientation activities, intramural sports, on-campus jobs, parent FAQs, your student account and answers to financing questions including bursaries, scholarships, RESP’s and OSAP. Combine your enrolment appointment day with a visit to the RED Zone as well as a visit to your specific College.

More information on York’s Red Zone is available online at: www.yorku.ca/redzone

Student Financial Assistance
York University is committed to helping students with demonstrated financial need meet the direct education costs associated with university studies (tuition, books and mandatory course fees). Financial assistance can be provided from a variety of sources including OSAP, scholarships, bursaries, private awards and campus employment (i.e. the Work/Study program).

Here are three suggested steps to take to ensure that you optimize your opportunities for financial assistance.

1. Apply for the government student assistance program in your home province (i.e., OSAP). The earlier you apply, the earlier you can find out how much assistance you could be eligible for. The recommended deadline to apply for OSAP is June 15 of each year

2. Complete York's Current Student Financial Profile (SFP) online at: www.yorku.ca/osfs/sfp.shtml. The Current SFP is used to apply for awards and bursaries open to current York students as well as eligibility for the Workstudy, Service Bursary and Research at York (RAY) programs.

3. Apply for external scholarships and awards. There are many companies that provide assistance to university students. Here are some sites to help you access these awards:

   • York External Awards Web site: www.yorku.ca/osfs/externalaw.shtml
   • CanLearn: www.canlearn.ca
   • International Students: www.yorku.ca/osfs/intlaid.shtml

Student Code of Conduct
York University is a place of research, teaching and learning where people value civility, diversity, equity and respect in their interactions with one another. Freedom of speech, freedom of association, freedom to study and to learn, freedom to engage in research, and the freedom to write and to publish are all recognized as central to the mission of the institution. It is acknowledged that these values can only be meaningful, and these freedoms fully realized, in an atmosphere of safety and security.

Since their inception, universities have been recognized as clearly distinguishable communities within the larger community and have dealt with issues of misconduct internally. Under the York University Act, 1965, 13(2)(c), the President has the power to formulate and implement regulations governing students and student activities. The President has assigned to the Vice-President Students, through the Office of Student Conduct and Dispute Resolution, the responsibility for the administration of this Code of Student Conduct. This Code has been developed through extensive consultation with students, staff, and faculty, and affirms their stated values of equity and respect. It is based on a model that supports a progressive discipline approach that encourages appropriate conduct.

The process the Code outlines for dealing with transgressions is designed to be perceptibly fair, easy to understand, and transparent. In addition, the sanctions it proposes have been developed through community consultation and are understood to be reasonable and suitable for a wide variety of misconduct. Wherever possible and appropriate, sanctions will be corrective rather than punitive.

Students are required to familiarize themselves with the student code of conduct online at: www.yorku.ca/scdr/CodeOfConduct.html

Academic Honesty
The Policy on Academic Honesty is an affirmation and clarification for members of the University of the general obligation to maintain the highest standards of academic honesty. As a clear sense of academic honesty and responsibility is fundamental to good scholarship, the policy recognizes the general responsibility of all faculty members to foster acceptable standards of academic conduct and of the student to be mindful of and abide by such standards.

Academic honesty requires that persons do not falsely claim credit for the ideas, writing or other intellectual property of others, either by presenting such works as their own or through impersonation. Similarly, academic honesty requires that persons do not cheat (attempt to gain an improper advantage in an academic evaluation), nor attempt or actually alter, suppress, falsify or fabricate any research data or results, official academic record, application or document.

Suspected breaches of academic honesty will be investigated and charges shall be laid if reasonable and probable grounds exist.

A student who is charged with a breach of academic honesty shall be presumed innocent until, based upon clear and compelling evidence, a committee determines the student has violated the academic honesty standards of the University. A finding of academic misconduct will lead to the range of penalties described in the guidelines which accompany this policy.
In some cases the University regulations on non-academic discipline may apply. A lack of familiarity with the Senate Policy and Guidelines on Academic Honesty on the part of a student does not constitute a defense against their application. Some academic offences constitute offences under the Criminal Code of Canada; a student charged under University regulations may also be subject to criminal charges. Charges may also be laid against York University students for matters which arise at other educational institutions.

A central purpose of the University is to teach students to think independently and critically. Cheating and other forms of academic dishonesty run counter to this purpose and violate the ethical and intellectual principles of the University; they are therefore subject to severe penalties. For more information, refer to the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty (see University Policies and Regulations section of the Undergraduate Calendar) or: www.yorku.ca/secretariat/policies/.

Academic Integrity

The best way to cope with the pressure of your responsibilities as a student is to develop strong academic skills, which includes ensuring that you understand and adhere to the principles of academic integrity. To avoid the possibility of committing an academic offense, ensure that you:

- Read and understand the Policy on Academic Honesty. Ignorance of the Policy is not an acceptable excuse for academic misconduct
- Produce honest academic work. For instance, this means that you must always reference all your sources in your written work, including those from the Internet
- Consult your instructor if you are unsure whether a certain course of action is acceptable
- Discourage others from violating standards of academic integrity
- Use resources at York to help improve your research and writing skills

You are strongly encouraged to familiarize yourself with issues of academic integrity, positive strategies to improve academic efforts and avoid committing an academic offence. For more information, visit: www.yorku.ca/academicintegrity/students/index.htm

An academic integrity tutorial, including a self-test are located at: www.yorku.ca/tutorial/academic_integrity/

Academic Sessions

Academic Sessions are divided into terms of varying length. The table below represents the Fall/Winter Session and indicates important dates by terms. The most common terms in the Fall/Winter Session are F (Fall), Y (Year) and W (Winter).

Fall/Winter Session
The period of time from the beginning of instruction in September until the end of the examination period in April or May.

Summer Session
The period of time from beginning of instruction in May until the end of the examination period in August.

Sessional dates and add and drop deadlines are important considerations when you are monitoring your academic performance on a course by course basis. The 2009-2010 Fall/Winter sessional dates are included in the table below as an example.

Sessional Course Loads
The following course loads apply to students in the Faculty of Health. In certain circumstances the Faculty may set other limits.

Fall/Winter Session
The normal course load for students in the fall/winter session is 30 credits. Students with substantial familial or financial responsibilities outside the University are advised to consider taking fewer courses in a session. Students may take a maximum of 36 credits overall (and 18 credits per term) without petitioning.

Summer Session
During the summer session, students may take a maximum of 15 credits. Students with substantial familial or financial responsibilities outside the University are advised to consider taking fewer courses in a session.

Add and Drop Deadlines
As described in the section on Enrolment and Registration in this Handbook, you will continue to have access to the registration system after your enrolment appointment. Here are deadlines for adding and dropping courses, both academic and financial. You will see the academic deadlines in the table below. Be sure to read the information on Refund Tables in the appropriate enrolment guide online at the Current Students Web site, so that you understand the differences between academic and financial deadlines. For the most part, the dates are different.

Adding Courses
The “Last date to enrol without permission of course instructor” deadlines indicate the last date you will have unrestricted access to enrol in (or add) courses using the online registration and enrolment system. After that date, you must contact the professor/department offering the course to arrange permission.

Dropping Courses
The drop deadline is the academic deadline before which you must officially withdraw from your course (using the registration and enrolment system). You can withdraw from (drop) courses using the registration and enrolment system up until the drop deadline. Failure to attend the course does not constitute withdrawal (or drop). If you do not officially withdraw from (drop) the course by the deadline, you will receive a grade for the course.

Withdrawal from a Session
If you drop all of your courses and do not replace them with others, you will be considered officially withdrawn from the University for the session. You are not considered withdrawn until you have dropped your course(s) using the registration and enrolment system. Failure to attend classes does not constitute official withdrawal for either academic or financial purposes. Sessional and Financial Dates are also available online at: www.registrar.yorku.ca/importantedates/index.htm

Refund Deadlines
Refund deadlines are dates by which you must withdraw from (drop) a course in order to receive any portion of the fees back from the University. Student Financial Services publishes these deadlines online. Financial deadlines are different than academic deadlines. Consult the Current Students Web site.

1. Credits are applied against any amount owing on your account. Refunds are issued only when all changes outstanding on your account have been cleared.
2. Fee withheld refers to the amount of fees retained by the University when you drop a course during the specified time frame. You are responsible for this amount, whether or not the fees have been paid.

Course Information

Audit a course
With the permission of a course director, you can audit a course by attending classes and participating in discussion, but you are not required to do assignments and are not entitled to essay or examination assessment. A final grade is not assigned in courses taken and no transcript or certificate of attendance is provided. To audit a course complete the Course Audit Contract Form available online at: www.registrar.yorku.ca/pdf/course_audit.pdf.

Co-requisites
A co-requisite is a course that must be taken in the same term as another course.

Course-conflict
A course conflict occurs when a student has enrolled in two courses which overlap or are scheduled at the same time on the same day. This is against University regulations. You are responsible for avoiding course-conflicts in your timetable.
Course-credit exclusions
Course-credit exclusions are pairs of courses that are recognized as having sufficient overlap in content to warrant specifically excluding students from obtaining credit for both. Course-credit exclusions may not be used as substitutes to fulfill degree or program requirements unless designated as such by the relevant program.

Course identification: Courses are identified by a standard format. For example: HH/PSYC 1010 6.00
• HH is the designation of the Faculty offering the course (in this case, Health)
• PSYC is the prefix of the teaching unit offering the course (in this case, Psychology)
• 1010 is the number of the course (the first digit identifies the level of the course)
• 6.00 is the suffix indicating the credit value of the course

The table below lists Faculty of Health disciplines and responsible unit.

Course-substitutes
A course substitute is a descriptive term applied when a course is recognized as sufficiently similar to a required course to warrant its acceptance as a “substitute” for the purpose of meeting the program’s requirements. You will see lists of course substitutes in the Programs of Study section of this Handbook.

Credit value
The credit value is the value of the course, e.g. HH/PSYC 1010 6.00 has a credit value of 6. The credit value is used along with the grade value to determine the grade point average.

Cross-listed courses
Cross-listed courses are offered jointly by two or more teaching units (such as departments or divisions), or teaching units in two or more different Faculties. Regardless of the offering Faculty or discipline identified by the course prefix of a cross-listed course, every offered section of a cross-listed course is substantially the same as every other and all are therefore recognized as instances of the “same” course.

Pre-requisites
Pre-requisites are courses that must be successfully completed before another course can be taken. Read course descriptions carefully and ensure you meet all pre-requisites before enrolling.

Upper-Level courses
Courses at the 3000 or 4000 level. Course level is identified by the first digit of the course number. Refer to the Programs of Study section of this Handbook for specific upper-level requirement for degree program.

Co-Registration in the Faculty of Education
Students enrolled in the bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degrees offered by the Faculty of Health may apply for admission to the Pre-Service Concurrent Program of the Faculty of Education. If they are accepted, they may coregister in the Faculty of Education and upon successful completion of the separate degree requirements of both Faculties will be awarded two degrees:
• Honours bachelor of arts (BA) and a bachelor of education (BEd) or
• bachelor of arts (BA) and bachelor of education (BEd) or
• Honours bachelor of science (BSc) and a bachelor of education (BEd) or
• bachelor of science (BSc) and a bachelor of education (BEd).

Although the health and education courses are taken concurrently, they are counted separately by each Faculty. Grade point averages for courses in the two faculties are also calculated separately. Thus, the 30 credits required for the BEd are independent of the 120 credits required for an Honours BA or BSc, or the 90 credits required for the BA or BSc. Therefore, a student completing the requirements for both degrees would complete a total of 150 credits for the Honours BA/BEd or Honours BSc/BEd or 120 credits for the BA/BEd or BSc/BEd.

Letters of Permission
Letters of permission allow Faculty of Health students to receive credit at York for courses taken at other universities. In order to receive credit for such courses, a letter of permission must be obtained prior to enrolling. Application forms for letters of permission are available at Student Client Services or from the Current Students Web site at: www.yorku.ca/yorkweb/cs.htm.

Courses which students propose to take on a letter of permission must be acceptable to the Faculty of Health teaching unit best able to judge their academic merit. The Faculty is under no obligation to accept courses taken without its permission.

Students must be in good academic standing to be eligible for a letter of permission; students on academic warning, debarment warning, or academic probation are not eligible.

In order to receive credit for courses taken on a letter of permission, students must arrange for the host institution to submit an official transcript to the Registrar’s Office. A minimum grade of C as understood at York University is required for credit to be granted. Grades earned in courses taken at other postsecondary institutions are not part of the student’s York transcript and are not incorporated into the student’s grade point average in the Faculty of Health.

Several formal programs exist for students to pursue study at universities in other countries. Where formal programs do not exist, and academic and personal circumstances warrant, individual arrangements may be made. For further information contact York International.

Should a student leave York University to pursue study at another postsecondary institution without a letter of permission, upon return to York, a new application to York is required and all previous transfer credit will be reassessed.
Grades

Grading System
Except for courses offered on an ungraded or “credit/no credit” basis or taken under the pass/fail option (more information is available online at the Current Students Web site), courses in the Faculty of Health are graded according to the following scale. The grade point values are used to compute averages.

Note: Only courses taken at York University are included in the grade point averages. The percentages indicated are not part of the official grading scheme and are meant only to be used as guidelines. The letter-grade system is the fundamental system of assessment of performance in undergraduate programs at York University.

Note: All of the above-noted grades are used to calculate averages and credits.

In courses where percentages are used as a means of reporting grades on individual pieces of work, the table above can be used to convert percentages into letter grades, unless alternative provisions for scaling and/or conversion are announced to students within the first two weeks of classes (see the section on Graded Feedback in this Handbook, or online at the Current Students Web site).

Grading Scheme in Courses
The grading scheme in courses (such as kinds and weights of assignments, essays, exams, etc.) will be announced, and be available in writing, within the first two weeks of class.

Graded Feedback (marks on assignments, essays and tests)
Under normal circumstances, you will receive graded feedback worth at least 15% of the final grade for Fall, Winter or Summer session, and 30% for ‘full year’ courses offered in the Fall/Winter session prior to the final withdrawal (drop) date from a course without receiving a grade, with the following exceptions:

• Graduate or upper-level undergraduate courses where course work typically, or at the instructor’s discretion, consists of a single piece of work and/or is based predominantly (or solely) on student presentations (e.g. honours theses or graduate research papers not due by the drop date, etc.);
• Practicum courses;
• Ungraded courses;
• Courses in Faculties where the drop date occurs within the first three weeks of classes;
• Courses which run on a compressed schedule (a course which accomplishes its academic credits of work at a rate of more than one credit hour per two calendar weeks)

Note: Under unusual and/or unforeseeable circumstances which disrupt the academic norm, instructors are expected to provide grading schemes and academic feedback in the spirit of these regulations, as soon as possible.

The receipt of graded feedback in advance of withdrawal (drop) deadlines will allow you to monitor your own progress in individual courses and provide the basis for you to make sound academic decisions about adding and dropping courses by the deadline. If you do not officially withdraw from (drop) the course by the deadline (using the online registration and enrolment system), you will receive a grade for the course. Failure to attend the course does not constitute withdrawal (or drop). See the section on Add and Drop Deadlines in this Handbook or online at the Current Students Web site.

Grades Distribution Adjustments
Your final grade in a course may not correspond to a straightforward tally of the marks or grades you received on individual course components. At times the instructor may curve or adjust course grades in order to achieve a required or more equitable course grade distribution profile.

A final course grade is not necessarily confined to a compilation of marks earned on individual course components. Final course grades may be adjusted to conform to Program or Faculty grades distribution profiles.

Credit/No Credit
The notations “Credit” and “No Credit” will be used when an entire course is being offered on an ungraded basis. No Credit will count as an earned failing grade of F in the grade point average. Some Faculty of Health Nursing practica courses are offered on a Credit/No Credit basis. Please refer to the Programs of Study section of this Handbook.

Alternative Grading Option (Pass/Fail)
You may enrol in elective or “free-choice” courses without fear of jeopardizing your grade point average if you are in good academic standing. It is possible for you to take a limited number of such courses for full degree credit on a Pass/Fail basis. Courses taken on this basis are listed on the transcript as Pass or as Fail. Neither of these two grades is calculated into your grade point averages. The course director forwards a written evaluation of the student’s work in the course to the student and to the Registrar’s Office. The following regulations apply to courses taken as a pass/fail alternative grading option:

• You may not be on academic warning, program warning, debarment warning, or on academic probation
• You may apply to take such courses only after you have successfully completed 24 credits (including transfer credits).
• Courses taken on a pass/fail alternative grading option may not be used for courses taken to satisfy major, minor, general education, certificate requirements, or 1000-level science courses.
• You may take a maximum of 12 credits in an honours degree and six credits in a bachelor degree on a pass/fail graded option.
• Before opting for a Pass/Fail grade, you are urged to consider the following:
  • Grades are used by organizations outside of the University to evaluate students.
  • Admission to graduate programs and to professional schools of all types depend upon letter grades.
  • You are cautioned that the appearance of a “P” instead of a letter grade on your transcript will be a significant disadvantage when competing for admission to graduate programs and in any evaluation of your academic performance.
  • A “P” grade for any course during your last 60 credits or for any upper-level course, is likely to be damaging to any evaluation of your transcript.
  • If you wish to designate a course as a Pass/Fail alternative grading option, you must do so within the first two weeks of the term in which the course begins. In order to designate a course Pass/Fail, you must obtain the signature of the course director on the form available on the Current Students Web site. Once completed, the form should be delivered to Student Client Services.

Repeating Passed or Failed Courses for Academic Credit, Senate Policy on
1. (a) Students are allowed to repeat a passed or a failed course once for academic degree or certificate credit. Students should note that course availability and space considerations may preclude the possibility of repeating a course in the session they choose.

(b) When a student is allowed to repeat a course for academic degree or certificate credit, the second grade will be the grade of record and the only grade calculated in the student’s grade point average (Major, Cumulative, Sessional and Overall). A course can be credited only once towards satisfaction of degree or certificate academic credit requirements.

(c) The record of both the first and second time the course was taken will appear on the student’s transcript, with the first course designated as ‘No Credit Retained’. [1]

(d) The restrictions regarding repeating a passed or failed course also apply to cross listed courses and course credit exclusions.

2. The above items do not apply to graduate degree or diploma programs, the BEd degree programs of the Faculty of Education, or the LLB degree program of Osgoode Hall Law School.

3. The above items do not apply to practicum courses offered in the Bachelor of Social Work degree program or practicum courses offered in the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BScN) degree program.

[1] It should be noted that when a course is repeated, the first instance of the course being taken and the grade that was awarded will continue to appear on the transcript with the designation “NCR” – “No Credit Retained” – added as a qualification beside the grade. The transcript legend will explain that the NCR designation means that neither the course credit nor grade have been included in the calculation of the student’s grade point average.

Release of Final Grades
Grade reports are generally released as follows:
• Fall term (F) grades – mid January
• Winter term and Fall/Winter grades (W and Y) – mid May
• Summer grades – early to mid September

The notification that grades have been released will be posted on Courses and Enrolment, Grades and Transcript, section on the Current Students Website: www.yorku.ca/yorkweb/currentstudents/coursesandenrolment/index.html.

Grade Point Averages
Refer to the grade point values in the second column of the table located under Grading System in this section of this Handbook. Point values are used only in calculating students’ grade point averages, both sessional and cumulative; and are not designed to be used to calculate marks in courses.

Sessional Grade Point Average
Reflects your grades for a particular academic session (e.g. Fall/Winter 2009-2010).

Cumulative Grade Point Average
The overall cumulative grade point average reflects a student’s grades over the entire undergraduate career to date in your degree program.

Grades from other Universities
Grades for courses taken at other Universities either prior to admission to York or on a York Letter of Permission are not listed on the York transcript and are not included in the calculation of grade point averages.

Academic Standing
Academic standing depends on several factors which include the number of credits a student has passed, the grade point average achieved during a particular session (sessional grade point average), or the overall grade point average (cumulative grade point average).

Year Level and Student Progress
Students progress toward a degree in the Faculty of Health is measured in terms of the number of credits passed (or earned) rather than years of study completed. The year level includes transfer credit. Year four applies to students in honours programs only.
Faculty of Education courses taken by students co-registered in the Faculty of Education are not included in Faculty of Health year levels.

Honours Standing Grade Point Average Requirement

Students who have completed less than 84 earned credits whose cumulative grade point average is below 5.00, may continue in a Faculty of Health Honours degree program provided you meet the year level progression requirements as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year Level</th>
<th>Credits earned</th>
<th>Cumulative grade point average</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>One</td>
<td>Fewer than 24 earned credits</td>
<td>Minimum cumulative grade point average 4.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Two</td>
<td>Fewer than 54 earned credits</td>
<td>Minimum cumulative grade point average 4.25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Three</td>
<td>Fewer than 84 earned credits</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Four</td>

</tbody>

Limited Additional Credits for Bachelor Degree Program

Students in a bachelor program who have passed 90 credits in accordance with Faculty and program requirements, but whose cumulative grade point average is below 4.00 may attempt to raise their average to 4.00 by taking up to 12 additional credits, to a maximum of 102 credits. These courses must be above the 1000-level and must be taken at York University.

Academic Standing Requirements for Bachelor of Science in Nursing Honours Degree Program

Students who have completed less than 120 credits and maintain a cumulative grade point average of at least 5.00 may proceed in Honours. Students at the point of completing 120 credits who have at least a cumulative grade point average of 5.00 and have a minimum grade of C (4.00) in all courses used in the major may apply to graduate or continue in the BScN Honours if requirements are not met.

Entry/Re-Entry

Students who attain the 5.00 cumulative grade point average prior to completion of 90 credits and have fulfilled the entry requirements may apply for entry/re-entry to the program. Students who have not attained the 5.00 cumulative grade point average at the point of completing 90 credits, will be ineligible for the program. No extra courses may be taken in a subsequent session in an effort to raise the grade point average. All requests for re-entry to the BScN are subject to School of Nursing approval. Some programs may have limited entry. Students may submit a change of degree request to enter/re-enter the program to the School of Nursing. All students who enter/re-enter the BScN program must follow the requirements of the program in place at the time of entry/re-entry.

Faculty Transfers

Students from other Faculties may submit a Faculty transfer request to enter the program to Student Client Services.

Failure to maintain academic standing

Advising recommended. Please refer to the Academic Penalties section which contains information on program warning, program warning conditions, required withdrawal, reactivation after required withdrawal, debarment warning, and debarment warning conditions.

Academic Standing Requirements for Visiting Students

Individuals who wish to enrol in undergraduate credit courses, but who do not intend to complete a degree or a certificate may be admitted to York as a Visiting Student (see the Admissions section of this calendar for more information). There are three categories of visiting students:

a) those who hold an undergraduate degree (three-year bachelor's degree minimum) from an accredited university/university-level institution;

b) those who do not hold an undergraduate degree but wish to enrol in York courses to fulfill the academic, upgrading or professional development requirements of a professional designation;

c) those who are currently attending another recognized university and wish to take York courses on a letter of permission issued by their home institution.

GPA Requirement

Students in categories a) and b) whose overall cumulative grade point average (OCGPA) falls below 4.00 on at least 24 credits attempted will not be allowed to enrol in any subsequent session as visiting students. Students who are not permitted to re-enrol must apply for re-admission through the Admissions Office.

Note: Repeated course legislation does not apply to visiting students but only to academic degrees and certificates. Therefore, all courses attempted or taken will count in the OCGPA.

Credit Limits

Students in category b) who have maintained an OCGPA of 4.00 throughout their studies and who have completed 30 credits will not be allowed to enrol in subsequent sessions and must either reactivate to proceed as visiting students or may choose to apply for admission to a degree or certificate program.

Academic Honours

The Faculty recognizes the academic excellence of its students in appropriate ways. The following honours are recorded on a student’s transcript:

Sessional Honours (Dean’s Honour Roll)

- Students taking 12 – 17 credits in a given session who have attained a sessional grade point average of 8.00 or higher.
- Students taking 18 or more credits in a given session who have attained a sessional grade point average of 7.50 or higher.

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Science in Nursing Degree Program, are subject to a separate set of academic penalties.

Academic Warning
Students whose cumulative grade point average falls below 4.00 at the end of any session, or who enter the Faculty with a grade point average equivalent to less than 4.00 on the York scale, receive an Academic Warning. Students on Academic Warning must achieve a cumulative grade point average of at least 4.00 within the next 24 credits taken, or earn a sessional grade point average of at least 5.00 in the session in which that 24th credit is completed and in each subsequent session until the cumulative grade point average reaches 4.00. Students whose cumulative grade point average is below 2.50 will be required to withdraw.

Required Withdrawal
Students whose academic record shows marked weakness may be required to withdraw from their studies for one year, during which they are encouraged to identify and remedy any problems which may have contributed materially to their failure to perform up to their potential, and to reflect on their reasons for pursuing a university education. The following regulations apply to required withdrawals.

Grade Point Average Below 2.50: Students whose cumulative grade point average on at least 24 York credits is below 2.50 will be required to withdraw for twelve months.

Grade Point Average Below 4.00 and Equal to or Greater Than 2.5:
Students who have received an Academic Warning for a cumulative grade point average below 4.00 must achieve a cumulative grade point average of at least 4.00 within their next 24 credits taken or earn a sessional grade point average of at least 5.00 in the session in which that 24th credit is completed and in each subsequent session until the cumulative grade point average reaches 4.00; otherwise, they must withdraw for twelve months. Should the student’s cumulative grade point average fall below 2.50 at any time after completion of 24 York credits, they will be required to withdraw for twelve months.

Petition to Continue without Interruption: Students who have been required to withdraw may submit a petition to the Faculty of Health Petitions Committee requesting permission to continue their studies without interruption. Students granted such a petition will be allowed to continue their studies on Debarment Warning.

Reactivation after Required Withdrawal: Students who have been required to withdraw must apply for reactivation after the requisite period of absence by submitting a reactivation form to Student Client Services. The form is available on the web at www.registrar.yorku.ca. Students who return to their studies after such a required withdrawal (as well as those who have been allowed to continue their studies by virtue of a petition to the Petitions Committee) receive a Debarment Warning.

Debarment Warning
Students who have been required to withdraw from the Faculty of Health, or from another Faculty at York, or elsewhere receive a Debarment Warning upon continuing their studies in the Faculty. Students on Debarment Warning must achieve a cumulative grade point average of at least 4.00 within the next 24 credits taken or earn a sessional grade point average of at least 5.00 in the session in which that 24th credit is completed and in each subsequent session until the cumulative grade point average reaches 4.00, and must then maintain this average. Students who do not fulfill these conditions will be debarred from the University.

Debarment
Students who fail to meet the debarment warning conditions outlined above will be debarred from the University. Debarment, the minimum period for which is normally two years, means that the student is no longer a student at York University.

Petition to Continue without Interruption: Students who have been debarred may submit a petition to the Faculty of Health Petitions Committee requesting permission to continue their studies without interruption. Students granted such a petition will be allowed to continue their studies on Academic Probation.

Reapplying after Debarment: Students who have been debarred and who wish to resume their studies must apply for admission through the Admissions Office, www.yorku.ca/admissions, and must provide persuasive evidence that they are ready and able to complete a degree program. Students who are readmitted (as well as those who have been allowed to continue their studies by virtue of a petition to the Petitions Committee) receive an Academic Probation.

Academic Probation
Students who have been debarred and who subsequently resume their studies in the Faculty of Health, whether by petitioning to continue without interruption or by reapplying for admission, receive an Academic Probation. Students on Academic Probation must meet the debarment warning conditions outlined above; otherwise, they will be debarred again.

Term work and Tests

Term work includes reports, assignments, essays, tests and other work assigned in a course with the exception of the final examination. Deadline dates and dates for in-class tests and examinations will be specified in your course syllabus.

When you do not or cannot write a mid-term examination (not held during the formal examination period), alternate arrangements to write the midterm examination should be made within the duration of the course by the course director and you, at the discretion of the course director.

All term work must be submitted by the first day of the official examination period of the term in which the course ends.

Alternate Tests

York’s disabilities offices and the Registrar’s Office work in partnership to support alternate exam and test accommodation services for students with disabilities at the Keele campus. For more information, see: www.yorku.ca/altexams/

Religious Observance Accommodation – Tests

York University is committed to respecting the religious beliefs and practices of all members of the community, and making accommodations for observances of special significance to adherents. Should any of the dates specified in your course syllabus for an in-class test or examination pose such a conflict for you, contact the Course Director within the first three weeks of class. Similarly, should an assignment to be completed in a lab, practicum placement, workshop, etc., scheduled later in the term pose such a conflict, contact the Course Director immediately. More information can be found on the Current Students Web site.

End of Term Percentage Restriction

No examination or test worth more than 20% of the final grade will be given during the last two weeks of classes in a term, with the exception of classes which regularly meet Friday evenings or on the weekend (Saturday and/or Sunday at any time).

Examinations

Examinations are important components of the educational process. Examinations are usually written tests, although some may have practical components. Examinations vary greatly in structure, and content, depending on the subject area.

Examination Period

There is a final examination period at the end of each term.

Examination Schedules

The dates and times of formally scheduled examinations are listed on the Current Students Web site when they become available.

Identification at Examinations

You are required to present identification at each examination during the official examination period. The following items will be accepted:

- A YU-card with a photo
- A valid sessional identification card plus a photo-bearing form of identification such as a driver’s license or passport
- A YU-card without a photo plus a photo-bearing form of identification such as a driver’s license or passport

Language of Examinations

The language or languages of instruction will normally be the language or languages of examination.

Examination Answer Booklets

Answer booklets are the property of the University. Examination booklets and other answer forms remain the property of the University. You may not remove them from the test or examination room, nor may you possess blank examination booklets.

Examination Conflict

There are three types of undergraduate exam conflicts:

1. Two or more exams at the same time;
2. Three exams on the same day;
3. Exams during three consecutive periods in 24 hours, (e.g. 7pm to 10pm the night before, then 9am to noon and 2pm to 5pm the next day)

Resolving an Examination Conflict

If you have a final undergraduate exam conflict please fill out the exam conflict report form, available on the Current Students Web site.

Alternate Examinations

York’s disabilities offices and the Registrar’s Office work in partnership to support alternate exam and test accommodation services for students with disabilities at the Keele campus. Before you submit your alternate exam and test request, you’ll need to register with Disability Services. If you’re not currently registered, registration information is located at: www.yorku.ca/dshub/
Religious Observance Accommodation – Examinations
York University is committed to respecting the religious beliefs and practices of all members of the community, and making accommodations for observances of special significance to adherents. Please note that to arrange an alternative date or time for an examination scheduled in the formal examination periods (December and April), you must complete an Examination Accommodation Form. Refer to the appropriate guidelines regarding Religious Observance Policy and Accommodation for Final Examinations on the Current Students Web site.

Missed/Unable to Write Examination (Requests for Deferred Standing)
You may be granted Deferred Standing if you miss or are unable to write your final examination at the scheduled time, or submit your final assignment on the last day of classes. In order to apply for Deferred Standing, you must complete a Deferred Standing Agreement Form and reach an agreement directly with your course director for an alternate final examination date or for an extension to the deadline. The Deferred Standing Agreement Form facilitates the setting of an alternate date for writing a final examination or submitting a final assignment before Faculty deadlines. More information can be obtained from the Current Students Web site.

Please Note: When you do not or cannot write a mid-term examination (not held during the formal examination period), alternate arrangements to write the mid-term examination should be made within the duration of the course by the course director and you, at the discretion of the course director. The Deferred Standing Agreement does not apply.

Rewriting of an Examination
There is no provision for rewriting a final examination to improve a final grade.

Reviewing Graded Examinations
Under properly controlled conditions, you may review your graded tests and examinations. Used final examination booklets, however, remain the property of the University and are retained by the teaching unit for a certain length of time before they are destroyed. More information and procedures for reviewing examinations may be obtained from the academic unit offering the course.

Requesting a Grade Reappraisal
You may, with sufficient academic grounds, request that a final grade in a course be reappraised (which may mean the review of specific pieces of tangible work). Non-academic grounds (such as illness or misfortune) are not relevant grounds for grade reappraisals; in such cases, students are advised to petition to their home Faculty. You are normally expected to first contact the course director to discuss the grade received and to request that your tangible work be reviewed. Tangible work may include written, graphic, digitized, modeled, video recording or audio recording formats, but not oral work. In the event that you are still not satisfied with your final grade or the course director is not available to review the work, you may submit in writing a formal request for a grade reappraisal to the department or unit in which the course is offered. The Senate approved deadline for submitting grade reappraisals is February 15 for fall term grades, June 15 for fall/winter session and winter term grades, September 30 for summer session grades, or a minimum of 21 days from the release of grades, whichever is later.

You need to be aware that a request for a grade reappraisal may result in the original grade being raised, lowered or confirmed. More information may be obtained from the Current Students Web site or from the academic unit offering the course.
Petitions for Exemptions from Regulations
Academic regulations allow you to develop your interests and talents to the fullest in ways consistent with the philosophy and standards of the Faculty. In establishing academic regulations, the Faculty also recognizes that instances will arise where it makes sense, in the context of a student’s academic career, to waive regulations which would otherwise apply.

Petitions Committee
The Petitions Committee considers requests for exceptions to all Faculty regulations, including petitions to continue studies without interruption from students who are required to withdraw or debarred. The guidelines for consideration of petitions and appeals by Faculty committees are located at the following URL:
www.yorku.ca/univsec/senate/committees/sac/petguid.htm

Right to Petition
Students in the Faculty of Health have the right to petition for special consideration. A petition is a request for the waiver of a regulation: it cannot be used to create legislation (for example: a degree program) that does not exist. Normally, petitions will not be considered by the Petitions Committee more than one year beyond the date of the release of grades for the session to which the petition relates.

Petitions Procedures
Petitions are held in the strictest confidence, and are presented anonymously to the committee. The committee considers the petition itself, any supporting documentation eg. from professors or medical practitioners, and other relevant information contained in the student’s record. Students may not appear in person.

Initiating a Petition
To initiate a petition, you must obtain a petition package from Student Client Services or www.registrar.yorku.ca/services/petitions/forms.htm#5.

Petitions must be mailed or hand delivered to:
Faculty of Health Petitions Committee
C/o Registrars Office, Bennett Centre for Student Services
The drop box is located in the front lobby and is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week

More information on petitioning is available from Student Client Services, or the Faculty of Health Office of Student and Academic Services, Ground Floor, Health, Nursing and Environmental Studies Building. You may also visit the Current Students Web site.

Practicum Course List
While practicum courses are required of all kinesiology and health science students in order to graduate, they are not applied towards the academic degree requirements in kinesiology and health science. The second digit of the practica courses indicates the practicum area. One practicum course represents a total of 24 contact hours of sports activity or equivalent.

Practicum courses provide professional preparation for kinesiology and health science students and as such may require vigorous physical activity. It is strongly recommended that every student in the practicum program have a medical examination prior to participating. Students with disabilities are considered on a case-by-case basis. Practicum courses are open to both men and women unless otherwise specified. For practicum course descriptions, please consult the School of Kinesiology and Health Science supplemental calendar.

School of Nursing: Policy on Involuntary Withdrawal
A student may be required to withdraw involuntarily from a course with a practicum component if:
1. The student fails to meet the requirements of the course with a practicum component, either through unsatisfactory attendance and/or participation in class or practicum settings, or through unprofessional behaviour in fulfilling course requirements; or
2. The student’s performance is judged to disrupt the functioning of the practicum site and/or jeopardize the well-being of clients of the practicum site, and/or demonstrate failure to meet professional standards for practice currently mandated by the College of Nurses of Ontario.

Following a meeting with the student, the decision to require the student to withdraw will be taken by the director of the School of Nursing on the recommendation of the course director and/or practicum coordinator.

Students have access to the usual appeal procedures in such instances.

School of Nursing: Student Behaviour Policy
The Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BScN) degree is an important determinant of eligibility for registration with the College of Nurses of Ontario. Given the professional trajectory of the BScN degree, a professional standard of behaviour is expected from nursing students. At issue in this policy is the protection of the public and the University’s role in graduating competent professionals. The policy recognizes the general responsibility of the faculty members of the School of Nursing to foster acceptable standards of professional behaviour and of the student to be mindful of and abide by such standards.

Progression through the BScN program at the School of Nursing at York University is contingent on students’ behaviour meeting the ethical and behavioural standards set forth in the Canadian Nurses Association Code of Ethics for Registered Nurses, the College of Nurses of Ontario Professional Standards, including the Ethics Practice Standard, the York University Student Code of Conduct, and other relevant York University policies including, but not limited to, the Sexual Harassment Policy and the Policy Concerning Racism.

Behaviour that may result in withdrawal from the BScN program
A student may be withdrawn from the BScN program if he or she:
1. commits any breach of the CNA Code of Ethics, the CNO Professional Standards, the CNO Ethics Practice Standards and/or any York University Policy that relates to student behaviour, such as the York University Student Code of Conduct or the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty that would engage the behavioural and ethical standards of the profession;
2. engages in any proscribed behaviour in a practicum agency as detailed in the School of Nursing’s Handbook;

3. acquires a criminal conviction after being admitted to the program (or which was acquired prior to admission but became known only after having been admitted to the program) which jeopardizes the student’s ability to gain registration as a nurse; or

York-Seneca Joint Program in Psychology and Rehabilitation Services

The Department of Psychology offers bachelor of arts (BA) and bachelor of science (BSc) degrees in Psychology (Specialized Honours, Honours, Bachelor, Honours Double Major and Honours Major and Minor options).

Admission to all 2000, 3000, and 4000 level courses in psychology (with the exception of HH/PSYC 2020 6.00, HH/PSYC 2021 3.00, and HH/PSYC 2022 3.00) is conditional upon satisfactory completion of HH/PSYC 1010 6.00.

Students must obtain a minimum grade of C in HH/PSYC 1010 6.00 to be permitted to continue as a major in psychology, as well as to take any further psychology courses for which HH/PSYC 1010 6.00 is a prerequisite.

Under exceptional circumstances, non-majors who have not obtained a minimum grade of C in HH/PSYC 1010 6.00 may apply for special consideration to enrol in an upper-level psychology course for which HH/PSYC 1010 6.00 is a prerequisite. This application should be made to an undergraduate program director in the Department of Psychology.

YORK-SENECA JOINT PROGRAM IN PSYCHOLOGY AND REHABILITATION SERVICES
This program allows a student to complete a BA or BSc or an Honours BA or Honours BSc degree in psychology at York in conjunction with a Certificate in Rehabilitation Counselling. The certificate is awarded jointly by York University and Seneca College. A full-time student would normally require four years of study for a BA or BSc degree, and five years of study for an Honours BA or Honours BSc degree, in the joint program.

In order to fulfill the requirements of a BA or BSc in psychology, a student is required to take a minimum of 30 (but not more than 42) credits in psychology, including HH/PSYC 1010 6.00 (with a minimum grade of C). For an Honours BA or Honours BSc in psychology, a minimum of 42 (but not more than 54) credits in psychology are required. (See degree program requirements.)

During years three and four, students will normally take 30 credits at York, from the required program list, and the equivalent of 30 credits will be chosen from the Seneca offerings. In addition to in-class academic instruction, students are required to complete two full year (September – April) courses involving a total of 800 hours of supervised fieldwork in each of the three major domains of rehabilitation: physical, emotional, and developmental. Programs will be tailored to each student through discussion with the coordinators. Minimum academic requirement for applicants is a 5.00 (C+) grade point average in the first 60 credits.

Admission Requirements and Procedures
Students who wish to enter the Rehabilitation Services Program should apply in the January preceding the final year of their BA or BSc degree program to the departmental program office. Generally, a student who demonstrates good intellectual ability, emotional stability and relevant experience will be considered for entry into the program. Applicants must have:

• completed 60 University-level credits towards a BA or BSc or 90 University-level credits towards an Honours BA or Honours BSc with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 5.00 (C+);
• completed an Introduction to psychology course (with a minimum grade of C);
• fulfilled the general education requirements of York University;
• previous employment or volunteer work in the field of rehabilitation or related experience.

Application materials for students currently enrolled at York University may be obtained by contacting Barbara Thurston, 283 Behavioural Sciences Building, 416-736-5115, extension 66253; e-mail: bthurst@yorku.ca.

In order to be considered for admission, all applicants must submit a complete application (i.e., application form, official transcripts, and two letters of recommendation). Students from other universities should apply through the York University Admissions Office. Complete applications received by the deadline (March 9) will be rank-ordered according to academic standing and previous experience by York and Seneca coordinators.

Colleges
One of the unique and special features of York is the internal college system, a University tradition that only a handful of Canada’s leading universities have adopted. The college system originated some 600 years ago at Oxford and Cambridge Universities in England.

The Colleges at York are essentially smaller units of the University. Think of them as akin to distinct communities in a large city. They’re meant to act that way as well — as communities of peers, advisors, professors and staff who will help you navigate through your years. Each college has a residence, as well as space for commuter students. They are centres of student social life, intramural sports, student clubs, extra-curricular activities and student academic advising. Each of York’s nine colleges has a unique history and tradition, and students remain lifelong members of the college community.

The colleges on campus all have areas designated as student space. Some of these places are equipped with comfortable seating, computers, tables and wireless access. You can meet with friends or classmates, conduct study groups, finish-up homework and surf the Web.

Everyone is assigned to a College when they enter York based on either their program of study (if they live off campus) or the residence that they live in. Those who get involved in college life often find this connection is a highlight of their university years. There are two colleges affiliated with the Faculty of Health, Stong and Calumet. In addition, the Bachelor of Science, Kinesiology and Health Science students are affiliated with Bethune College.

College Web sites can be found on the Student Life section of the Current Students Web site at: www.yorku.ca/yorkweb/currentstudents/studentlife/index.html

Undergraduate Psychology Students’ Association (UPSA)
The York Undergraduate Psychology Students’ Association is a student run organization that aims to bring students and faculty in the York Psychology program together. With the support of faculty members who donate their time to discuss their area of Psychology with UPSA, we are able to create a unique learning situation for our members. By providing the opportunity to meet with professors in an informal atmosphere students are able to see both the study of Psychology and the course directors from a new perspective.

We are also grateful to have York graduate students share their graduate school experiences, hints on preparing for graduate school, and pointers on which skills are essential to succeed once you get there. It is our hope that these informal meetings will provide a comfortable atmosphere where students are encouraged to ask the questions that help to develop an overview of the field of Psychology. York University has one of the biggest Psychology programs. We would like this group to serve as a foundation for the formation of student study groups, support groups, social groups and opportunity networking in the field of Psychology. It all begins with one fundamental principle: Use what you’ve got! For further information please see our Web site.

UPSA offers:
- Free tutoring in Psychology subjects to our members
- Meet & Greet the Graduate Student and Professors plus more
- The advertisement of research assistant opportunities via our listserv to our members
- Volunteer opportunities listed at our office and we raise money for charity each year
