

Madeleine Redfern, Mayor of Iqaluit

Please join the Department of Equity Studies in welcoming Madeleine Redfern, Mayor of Iqaluit, Nunavut, prominent lawyer and public figure, to present a talk about:

Migration, Inclusion & Identity

Thursday, October 20, 2011

4:00 to 7:00 p.m.

McLaughlin College, Junior Common Room

Followed by a reception

All are welcome

Madeleine Redfern, Mayor of Iqaluit, Nunavut, studied law at the Akitsiraq Law School, University of Victoria. Ms. Redfern clerked for Madam Justice Charron with the Supreme Court of Canada and worked as a legal researcher with Nunavut Tunngavik Incorporated. Mayor of Iqaluit since 2010, Ms. Redfern recently worked as Executive Director with the Qikiqtani Truth Commission and has extensive volunteer and governance experience with Inuit and Aboriginal organizations, including Tungasuvvingat Inuit Community Centre and Kagita Mikam (an aboriginal employment and training board). Ms. Redfern is currently Secretary-Treasurer with Maliganiik Legal Services Board and Chair of the Legal Services Board.

This event is co-sponsored by 2011 Trudeau Fellowship.

For more information, contact the Department of Equity Studies at 416 736-5235 or e-mail deqs@yorku.ca