How to Write an Effective Appeal

If you have received a citation, and you would like to appeal it, you have 5 business days in which to submit a Notice of Objection. A Notice of Objection can be submitted online at www.yorku.ca/parking

- 1 Keep the information on the appeal as short as possible while still providing pertinent information.
- 2 Indicate that the problem for which you were cited has been corrected or, if you are appealing your first citation, that you have made yourself familiar with University Parking & Traffic Regulations.
- 3 Address the issue for which the citation was issued. Tangential matters cannot be considered.
- 4 Avoid the temptation to editorialize. We are aware that convenient parking and loading zones are at peak times, limited.
- 5 Avoid confusing parking issues with issues of security.
- 6 Appeals are almost never granted for any of the following listed reasons:
 - "Everybody parks there, and I am the only one who got a ticket"
 - "I was only there for 5 or 10 minutes"
 - "I've parked there for the last five weeks (months, years, etc) and I've never been cited before"
 - "I didn't know"
 - "I thought it was a space"
 - "I did not see the sign"
 - "I can't afford the fine"
 - "I had to use the washroom facilities" (or had a sick friend that had to use the washroom facilities)
 - "How was I to know it was going to snow last night?"
