

The Department of History
Faculty of Arts, York University

presents

Two Archeological Talks by Elizabeth Fentress

"Early Islamic Urbanism in the Maghreb: Volubilis goes to the Hammam"

Monday, 23 February, 12:00-2:00, 010 Vanier College
Sponsored by The York Noor Chair in Islamic Studies, the Division of Humanities

"Crushing Grapes at Villa Magna"

Tuesday, 24 February, 11:00-1:00, 2183 Vari Hall
Sponsored by the Department of History and the Programme in Classical Studies

Elizabeth Fentress has excavated and surveyed widely in Italy and North Africa; including projects at Cosa, Setif, Volubilis, Jerba and Alatri. Her books include Numidia and the Roman Army (1979), The Berbers (1989, with Michael Brett), various volumes publishing her excavations and, as editor, Romanization and the City (2001). She is currently vice president of the International Association for Classical Archaeology.