

Herbert Carnegie

The Canadian HERO!

Herbert Carnegie was a man of action. He was born in Toronto in 1919. His parents moved to Toronto from Jamaica in 1912. Dr. Carnegie was a resident of North York for more than 90 years. He died on March 9, 2012, yet continues to be a Canadian hero who remains a role model for all who knew him. Herb is known in the media as "the best hockey player that never played in the NHL because of the colour of his skin." He will also forever be remembered for his legacy of enriching the lives of millions of youth.
