STAY!

This tour is presented by the alumni associations of the University of Alberta, the University of Saskatchewan, Western University, McGill University, York University, and McMaster University. All are welcome!

Here, far away from the outside world, a constant breeze sweeping over these 12 islands has sculpted red sandstone cliffs, dwarfed the forests, and formed sand dunes, connecting some islands together and enclosing a series of lagoons protected from the open seas.

Settled permanently since the 18th century, the people here have also adapted to this remarkable environment and created a unique culture. Over the course of our week here based in our sea-view auberge, we'll have a chance to explore this world apart and experience a sense of solitude and connection where time seems to have stood still.

We'll walk sand-dune trails with delicate plants and explore the interdunal bogs, fens, and saltmarshes, watching for sundews and other fragile plant life. We'll attune to the sights and sounds of resident bird life. We'll watch for Grey and Harbour Seals looking back at us as they course the shallows. As we walk along paths at higher altitudes, we'll enjoy a surprisingly boreal habitat and get sweeping views of the archipelago as we enjoy the fresh sea air. We'll also gain a sense of the cultural mosaic deriving from French-speaking Acadia and the British Isles as we visit the friendly island communities. Our meals are always a highlight, and we'll enjoy selections featuring seafood and more with local flair! Each day will yield something different.

Join us to explore a hidden gem right here in Canada!

Study Leader

Alan Watson is a retired faculty member in the School of Environmental Sciences at the University of Guelph, where he taught nature interpretation, environmental stewardship and a conservation field course, and he also recently retired from his long-standing role as Director of the university's Arboretum. He has over 25 years of experience leading tours, including to such places as Trinidad and Tobago, the Lesser Antilles, Costa Rica, Brazil, Tanzania, the Galapagos Islands, and the Magdalen Islands. Alan is also a cetacean expert who has studied the Harbour Porpoise in depth. Alan has explored the Magdalens and led tours here several times in past years. Alan will be joined by an expert local guide to add extra depth to your discoveries.

Detailed Itinerary

Sunday, September 24: Arrival on the Magdalen Islands

This afternoon we'll be met upon arrival at the airport in the Magdalens and transported to our lodge on Grosse île. We'll have an orientation with our Worldwide Quest leader, meet our local hosts and then enjoy a Welcome Dinner. Depending on time and daylight, we may have some time to begin casual explorations of the landscapes right at our doorstep.

Overnight: La Salicorne

Meals: Welcome Dinner

Monday – Friday, September 25 – 29: Exploring the Magdalens

We will spend the following 5 days exploring various habitats and elevations on several of these islands, most of which are connected by road or sand dune but for one (Entry Island or île d'Entrée), which we will reach by ferry. We may also visit some museums and artisan's workshops, with a chance to speak with the locals and learn about life on the islands. Lunches may be had in the field, at local establishments, or back at our lodge depending on the day's activities. On one afternoon, we'll take some time to visit the Seal Interpretive Centre (Centre d'interprétation du phoque), which is located right inside our lodge. This museum showcases the several seal species that reside in the archipelago as well as the relationships the human residents have with them.

Overnight: La Salicorne

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

Saturday, September 30: Departure

Today after breakfast and depending on the flight schedules, we may have a chance for some light explorations around our lodge before heading to the airport for our flights onward. Farewell, fair isles!

Meals: Breakfast

Note: The itinerary and accommodations described in these notes are subject to change due to logistical arrangements and to take advantage of local events.

What to Expect

Joining Instructions

This tour begins at noon at the Îles-de-la-Madeleine Airport on September 24. Travellers will be met by our local hosts. If you are making your own pre-trip arrangements, you will have to make arrangements for transportation to your pre-trip hotel. The tour concludes with a single included transfer to the airport on September 30. Please contact us to verify timing of this transfer prior to making any flight arrangements.

#SafeTravels

Worldwide Quest has been awarded the World Travel and Tourism Council's #SafeTravels Stamp for adopting health and hygiene global standardized protocols. Learn more.

Weather

Temperatures in the Magdalens are refreshing and moderated by the Gulf of St. Lawrence. We can expect temperatures ranging from 17°C (64°F) during the day to 9°C (37°F) at night. We expect mostly sunny skies with some possible rain but and very minimal precipitation with a comfortable amount of humidity in the air.

Transportation

We use a comfortable 24-passenger minibus for our tour. This should allow for plenty of spacing and our leader will organize a daily seat rotation.

COVID-19 Entry and Travel Requirements

All travellers on Worldwide Quest tours are required to be fully vaccinated and prepared to show proof of vaccination as per local regulations. Please refer to these websites for current requirements:

Canada: <https://travel.gc.ca/travel-covid>

Level of Activity: Easy to Moderate

While this is not a particularly strenuous trip and none of our hikes are particularly long or fast, you should bear in mind that walking on rough paths is sometimes more difficult than on hard ground or pavement. Good firm walking shoes, and perhaps a trekking pole for extra balance, will maximize your enjoyment of this trip.

Accommodation

We will be using a comfortable lodge with private facilities during our stay on the Magdalens.

Travel Documents

Canadians must have a government issued photo ID to board a plane for flights within Canada. British Subjects and citizens of the USA must have a valid passport to visit Canada. Before booking, please refer to the Canadian government website to obtain travel advice for the destination(s) you are visiting: www.travel.gc.ca
