Brand Definition and Journey

What is the brand?
Our brand is our DNA. It’s how we act, think, speak and behave, and is our institutional culture and identity. It makes us stand for something unique and meaningful vs. other universities. It is the essence of who we are.

Overview

Brand Building Blocks

The brand story, messaging and elements below form the building blocks of the York University brand system. Working together, they support our unique brand expression and our positioning of positive change.

Each aspect of the system has been developed to help communicate your ideas and will help you in various forms of media, from digital to print including motion graphics and video. You will see how to make effective use of them in the following pages.
The York University brand architecture reflects a master-brand strategy. The brand architecture defines the organizational structure and visual relationships between the university's various entities. It tells us how they relate to one another and to the larger institution.

*Please note that divisions and units do not have locked logos. They use IBM Plex, York's official font, to identify themselves in print and online. See section 2.16.
2.0 Logos
Logos

Primary Logo

As it is a leading university, the York logo is recognized around the world. Throughout all our touch points, our logo represents our brand and signals our collective desire to create positive change.

The York University logo is composed of two parts: the typographic signature and the York U square. They must always be used together and should not be altered in any way.
Logos

Digital Logo

The digital version of the logo is a simplified version of our main logo and is designed to ensure optimum legibility and reproduction in digital media. Please use this version for social channels, digital ads, PowerPoint presentations and screens (for example, LCD and LED). In other words, please use this version of the logo for any media where it will be rendered in pixels.
Logos

Vertical Version
Alternate

The vertical version of the logo is considered a secondary use. It is to be used only when there is not adequate space for the horizontal logo, such as on narrow web ads or pull-up banners.
The York U crest is the most formal expression of our brand and should only be used in official, scholarly and ceremonial applications.

If you wish to use the crest, please contact University Brand & Marketing: cpabrandmar@yorku.ca.
Logos

Primary Colour Variations

As a feature of the new brand system, a reverse version of our logo has been created, which makes it easier to use in a variety of applications. For example, it can be used on a solid York Red background or full-colour photograph where it will be clearly legible.

Our York Red (PMS 186; Hex E31837) plays a critical part in helping our stakeholders, peers and prospects recognize the York U brand in the marketplace. Red emphasizes our Canadian heritage and speaks to our energy and passion.
Digital Colour Variations

To ensure maximum legibility on screens and in media where the logo will be rendered in pixels, a digital version of the logo has been created. To maintain the strength and clarity of the logo, choose the option most appropriate for the background colour or image it is placed on.

The reverse logo should only be used on solid backgrounds or on photographs where it will be clearly legible. Visit yorku.ca/brand to download York U’s Primary and Digital logos.
Logos

Full Colour Logos

The full colour logo may be used on white backgrounds, light-coloured backgrounds and photographs with clean space where it will be clearly legible.
Revers Logos

Reverse Logos

The reverse logo may be used on photographs where it will be clearly legible. It may also be used on certain solid backgrounds, like York Red and the darker hues of our primary and secondary palettes.

It may also be knocked out of certain Faculty accent colours where it will be legible. When considering the reverse version of the logo, remember it must have enough contrast between the foreground and background to comply with Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA) standards. For AODA guidelines, please refer to “Accessibility” at https://aodaweb.info.yorku.ca/.

York University
Brand Guidelines 2020 — Version 1.6
Using the logo correctly helps with brand recognition for all our audiences, as well as maintaining the logo’s legibility and impact.

The logo is protected by an invisible safety space where no graphic material, other than the background, should appear. This is to ensure the logo remains free from visual interference and stands out clearly.

The safety space should be a minimum of 0.5x, where “x” is the height of the square. There may well be instances where the logo needs to be positioned further than this minimum distance from edges to ensure well-balanced design.

The safety space and minimum sizing must be observed when using the logo in any university communication.
Logos

Incorrect Usage

It is important to maintain the integrity of York’s logo and not alter it in any way. The brand system provides many opportunities for creative expression, but the locked-up logo is sacrosanct. It is the most important asset of our overall brand.

Please do not create any special event or anniversary versions of the logo. Contact University Brand & Marketing if you have any questions or special requests: cpabrandmar@yorku.ca.

DO NOT
- condense or expand the logo
- change colours of the logo
- alter the proportions of the logo's elements
- add special effects to the logo
- outline the logo
- add additional elements to the logo
- place the logo over “busy” imagery
- use the digital-only logo in print
- rotate the logo
- change the lock-up of the logo
- create your own anniversary logo

York Logo Placement

In order to create more consistent communication materials, the preferred placement for the York U logo is the bottom right corner.

This rule applies to the primary, sub-brand and Faculty logos as well. The sub-brand and Faculty lock-ups are designed with a flush-right typographic setting and will always work better on the right-hand side of your design.

However, there is some flexibility in the new brand platform. For reasons like maintaining optimum legibility on a photograph or background, or to create a more pleasing layout, the York U logo may be placed in one of the other corners of your document or media file. For example, the logo will work better in the top left for e-communications.

The logo should never be centred in your design.
Logos

Sub-brand Primary

At York, we are proud of our affiliated schools and our bilingual Glendon campus for their excellence and contributions to the university’s reputation.

The typographic lock-up system was designed to promote the sub-brands first, while retaining the connection to the York master brand. Do not split up these locked logos, as this dilutes our overall messaging. We are stronger together.

These locked-up versions are to be used in print applications.

Official logos are available for each sub-brand by contacting the sub-brand’s communications department or University & Brand Marketing: cpabrandmar@yorku.ca.
Logos

Sub-brand
Digital

These locked-up versions are to be used in digital applications like social media, PowerPoint presentations and digital ads. Whenever the logo is rendered in pixels, please use the digital version.

The reverse version of the logo may be used on a photograph or solid background, but only where it will be clearly legible. For more examples, please see section 2.6-2.8.
Like our sub-brands, the Faculties take a prominent position adjacent to York’s master brand. These locked-up versions are to be used in print applications and may be used in full colour, black and white or reverse. There is a separate version for digital usage.

Additional Usages and Initiatives

Division or Unit Name Expression

As a fully comprehensive, research-intensive university with multiple campuses, York has a wide range of communications needs. As such, it is important to express our collective promise of positive change through a consistent brand expression. Its divisions, units and university and student events and initiatives will all benefit from adopting elements of the brand toolkit to ensure our brand remains strong. Here are some simple rules to guide you as you develop your materials.

1. In York’s master-brand architecture, the names of divisions and units are not locked to the York U logo. Within the creative space, divisions and units may express their area by using our official typeface, IBM Plex Sans, and the primary colour palette for the university. In exceptional circumstances, a unique sponsorship logo may be requested but would need to be discussed with University Brand & Marketing in advance.

   In addition, unique “taglines” are not part of the branding system. Those messages should be incorporated in the communication text. A tagline may not be used as a sign-off. This is to avoid confusion and brand proliferation.

2. To label your initiative or event, use York’s official typeface, IBM Plex Sans. It may be rendered in the primary colour palette and should not include extraneous design elements in the word mark. The York U Brand site provides other elements like imagery, emblems and the Window of Positive Change (see section 4.1) to create a unique expression.

Sponsorship Representation

York’s many Faculties, divisions and units partner with external companies and institutions on a regular basis to signal how they are a part of creating positive change in any given initiative or company. Below are a number of items to consider.

ON-CAMPUS SPONSORSHIP

York is the sole sponsor:
Utilize your locked logo if you have one, use that. If you are a division or unit and do not have a locked logo, utilize the York logo only and your division or unit will appear as text only.

More than one York sponsor:
Use the York logo and your Faculty, division or unit can be worked into the text with one York logo.

EXTERNAL SPONSORSHIP

If you require your division or unit to be represented with the York logo in a space, you can request a sponsorship logo with your unit/division name for limited sponsorship usage by contacting University Brand & Marketing.

In addition, if the sponsorship or partnership is global and not within a higher education context, we recommend using the primary logo versus the digital version of the logo.

Student-Run Initiatives

Clubs, organizations and student-run initiatives are not permitted to use any element of the York brand (such as the fonts, colours, logos or design system), as they are not officially sanctioned university properties.

York Colour Palette

Our updated palette reflects our positive emotional and psychological stance. And colour helps our stakeholders and prospects recognize the York U brand in the marketplace.

York Red is a prominent element and is complemented with an accent blue and pewter colour. All the colours work together seamlessly, but the accent colours are always used to support and be in the service of our York Red, never in competition with it.

The updated palette also acknowledges those with visual impairment and adheres to accepted AODA standards. The core colours of the updated palette have tints, which means you can choose colours with enough contrast for all your communication needs and ensure ultimate legibility.

York Colour Palette Proportionality

The scale below will help you determine how to use the colours to create communications that range from the most formal to the most informal. The individual colours in the updated brand palette may be used in different ratios. Think about your audience and choose the right proportion of colour for the type of message you wish to convey.

HIGH-PROFILE EXTERNAL AUDIENCES
- Advertising campaigns
- Ceremonies

HIGH-PROFILE EXTERNAL / INTERNAL AUDIENCES
- Presentations, events and special announcements

PAN-UNIVERSITY EXTERNAL / INTERNAL AUDIENCES
- On and off-campus events
- Promotions
- Reports

INFORMAL / INTERNAL AUDIENCES
- Casual announcements
- On-campus events
Glendon, Lassonde, Osgoode and Schulich have long-established colour palettes that are strongly associated with their identities. Using the sub-brand primary palette, along with the York palette (including reds and greys, black and white) will ensure the York master brand remains strong.

The palette proportionality provides guidance on how much of the York Red to include in your communications. For internal audiences, sub-brands may use their primary colours more liberally. But for pan-university and external-facing communications, the York Red must be evident for alignment.

The Psychology of Colour

Colour is an effective identifier for our university. As such, the use of York Red will ensure connection across all our communications.

The updated York primary palette balances tradition with modernity. It has the flexibility to work in a variety of media and ensures accessibility.

Red has always been part of York’s identity, and it is complemented by timeless black and white, two darker tints of our red, as well as a variety of elegant greys. Only these colours are to be used in our high-level, external-facing communications.

New to the palette, in keeping with our message of positive change, are two hues of blue: a bright and a light version. The addition of these colours provides more opportunity for design expression and may be used university-wide (other than in the most formal circumstances).
The updated colour palette drew its inspiration from all over the university’s campuses – from its modern interiors to its outdoor spaces and architecture.
Brand Elements

Faculty Accent Colours

The attributes of our Faculty accent colour palette support our message of positive change. The many programs of study and areas of inquiry available through our Faculties are multi-faceted and nuanced. The suggested accent colour for each reflects the essence of the Faculty subject areas it represents. Each colour has been carefully chosen for its positive connotative associations and chromatic properties, and the way it harmonizes with York Red.

The perception of colour is extremely subjective, but within the spectrum, certain colours have, over time, developed their own histories and emotional meanings. For example, green has long been affiliated with growth, red with passion and blue with loyalty. Colours are used to create action or a response in humans – or can suggest a signal of value or a specific category. The adoption of a unique Faculty accent colour provides differentiation, as well as consistency of meaning and message. The accent colour works as a metaphor for the Faculty – however, not in a literal sense.
Faculty Accent Colours Specification

Each Faculty has a specific accent colour within the palette to differentiate itself within the larger institutional brand. Just like the institutional palette, a proportionality scale has been provided to guide you in using the Faculty colour – from its most formal application (high-profile external audiences) to its informal use for internal messaging.

To supplement the Faculty accent palette, you may use the greys from the main York palette. However, the light and bright blues, and dark and medium reds are reserved for institutional use only. Usage of the Faculty accent colours are reserved for the specific Faculty and requires approval from the communications manager and/or University Brand & Marketing.
Typography is a powerful part of the brand toolkit. It can be used to impart messages with strength or subtlety in every type of communication, from the most formal to the most casual, by different users. Typography can be used effectively as a key part of design, without the need for imagery. IBM Plex Sans has been chosen as the primary font with secondary fonts to use in addition to the primary font in specific places.

The typeface IBM Plex has been specially chosen as the universal face for York University and is available in four cuts, with the sans serif as the primary choice for York’s brand platform. Its modern character pairs well with our message of positive change. The breadth and versatility of the face is particularly appealing for a large university with multiple needs and users. It is a completely free font and can be downloaded directly from the IBM site (https://www.ibm.com/plex/) or Google Fonts (https://fonts.google.com/specimen/IBM+Plex+Sans).
The serif, condensed and mono cuts of IBM Plex all work harmoniously with one another and can be used interchangeably to create interesting design expressions and different tones. The secondary fonts are to be used in addition to versus in place of the primary IBM Plex Sans.

Plex is a very hardworking face and was cut to address today’s digital media needs but works equally well in print. It also works very well in small sizes.

Plex is distinctive yet timeless. It balances human and rational elements.

York University’s typeface, IBM Plex, comes in four families and may be used in combination to create texture and interest in your design and communications. The serif text face is excellent for conveying longer passages and for contrasting with the sans serif.

The variety of weights available for each of the four families within the typeface provides ample opportunity for expression – from the most formal to the most casual. Use the sans serif as the primary choice, but to create hierarchical levels of information, the condensed, italic and mono faces may be used for differentiation or accent.

Design System
Design System

Window of Positive Change

The Window of Positive Change is the proprietary design element of the refreshed visual design system and is an apt reference for York University – a leading proponent of positive change through its research, scholarship, progressive pedagogy, advocacy and student engagement.

This is a window onto the world. The idea offers possibility and hope – as a witness to social, technological, political and cultural change. It situates the York community in two worlds contemporaneously, both the interior and the exterior.

The Window of Positive Change is a metaphor for a progressive academic experience, openness to ideas, transparency, inquiry and critical thinking. The window is a vessel within which the York community (from the formal institution to its partners and students) has the opportunity to create meaning. At times, it places the subject inside the frame but always with a view outward. Here we may tread both worlds to gain empathy and a broader perspective.
The width of the Window of Positive Change is determined by the size of the square in the York logo. A simple incremental rule consisting of basic multiplication is applied to produce the various window widths in use. The rule states that starting from the base size (referred to as x), the window may grow or decrease in size by multiples of 0.5. This means the base size (x) can be multiplied by 0.5, 1, 1.5, 2, 2.5, 3, 3.5 and so on.

The only exception to this 0.5 rule is that the base size (x) can also be reduced one step further by multiplying it by 0.25. This allows for the creation of a “keyline” window. Using this formula, a vast variety of window widths can be created. There are no formal rules for how to size the logo, but users must adhere to the minimum size for proper reproduction.

The logo is a vital signifier of the university brand and therefore should be clear and prominent. Adhering to the incremental rule will ensure consistency throughout all digital and print materials.

When the York logo does NOT appear with the window (e.g., in social media posts) the minimum sizing used for the logo (0.35” for formal/print and 20px for digital) should still be applied to sizing the window. This would give a base starting width of 0.35” for formal/print and 20px for digital, which the incremental rule is then applied to. For windows that require bleed, the recommended width is 1x to allow for proper trimming.

Window of Positive Change
Usage and Rules

A foundational element of our new visual design system is the Window of Positive Change. These are illustrations of the window system blueprint. The example to the right illustrates both the dimension of the window and the safety space for the York logo. The dimensions noted comply with the incremental rule. The pink represents a sample window dimension, while the blue indicates the safety space to ensure the York logo is clear and has maximum impact.
Window of Positive Change

Usage and Rules

As previously noted, the window dimension is based on the size of the square in the York U logo, but you have the flexibility to use the window (or windows) sizes that best suit your content and design.

If you are using a full-colour logo, and it is not inside a window, then use the "x" incremental rule (section 4.2) to help you determine the safety space between the logo and the window to create an aesthetically pleasing composition.
Design System

York Logo Placement Variations

The York logo may be placed inside the window, outside a floating window or on top of a thick window. The safety space is to be observed so the logo stands out from other content. However, the logo is always placed fairly tight to the window.
York Logo Placement Variations

It is important to note that the preferred placement for the York logo is the bottom right, even in the examples here, where the window is inset.
Design System

Window of Positive Change
Usage and Rules

For institutional use, the window must only be red or white. A white pillar may also be used to set it off against a red window, or conversely, a red pillar may be used within a white window.

The Window of Positive Change must be used as a design element in all formal communications. However, for communications that are more casual or internal-facing, and in social media, it is not mandatory. See section 4.28 for usage summary.

Design System

Window of Positive Change
Usage and Rules
A feature of the new brand system is a “pillar” to identify sub-brands and Faculties within the larger master brand. The pillar is integrated within the overall window structure and should be the same width. The pillar may be used on the left or right side of the window, but please observe the safety space rules for the logo.

For Faculty use, the window should be red or white with the pillar in your Faculty colour.

For sub-brands, this rule is reversed: the window should be coloured in your primary brand colour (Glendon blue, for example) with a red pillar to connect it to the York brand.
Faculty Accent Window

Examples

Here are some examples of the window system for Faculty use, including the pillar, open and floating window. For external communications, the window must be red or white with a pillar in the Faculty colour.

However, for internal or Faculty-specific communications, you may use your Faculty palette colour for the window in imagery or as text.

Under certain conditions, multiple coloured windows (using the Faculty and primary palette) may be used to indicate breadth of the university in one piece of communication – like a viewbook, for example. Check with University Brand & Marketing to ensure compliance.
Design System

Sub-brand Accent Pillar
Examples

The pillar may also be used by sub-brands when communication is pan-university. The window would be coloured according to the main sub-brand colour, with a York Red pillar. For example, Osgoode Hall Law School would use a pewter window with a red pillar.

The sub-brands (and Faculties) must use the pillar on external-facing communications, but have the flexibility to use a solid Faculty-coloured window for more casual communications or for internal use. However, with this option, the York Red must still be used in the proper proportion.
Sub-brand Accent Window
Examples
York is an inspiring, welcoming and progressive university, and we express this through our choice of words and images. We see never-ending possibilities, and we find great delight in sharing them with others. And one of the best ways to tell our story is through photography, by showing real-life moments as our community members engage in their pursuits, enjoy the collegiality of their classmates and colleagues, and strive for positive change.

We express this with:

- Unique angles and unexpected cropping to show there is always another way of looking at things. We celebrate moments of discovery and are always happy to share a smile.
- Focus on people as a way to tell our story. This approach is a visceral and memorable way to inspire sharing, to propel curiosity and to provide a “picture” of our brand.
- Capture authentic moments with eyes to camera or create a sense that the viewer is right there in the middle of a conversation. This is much more compelling than architectural shots.

While it isn’t always easy to avoid using stock photography, as a goal, please use no more than 20% in your materials. With camera phones as good as they are, it is usually possible to capture a real moment from your own Faculty or area to help tell your story.
Design System

Photography Assets

We have provided a set of newly commissioned, original images that reflect our diverse community, our academic fields of study and our campus life. In addition, you will be able to access a set of "generic" York-branded images that will have pan-university appeal.

Using the Window of Positive Change, you will be able to focus attention and frame your visuals in new and dynamic ways.

It is important to remember the following when preparing for a photo shoot:

1. Images should not be clichéd and should be relevant to your subject area. The images are a reflection of who we are, after all.

2. With the flexibility for Faculties and sub-brands to use a specific coloured window, we also want to ensure the York Red is integrated to reinforce brand awareness. The red may be added in typography, but it is also possible to consciously add a red element (clothing, backpacks, files, objects) into the photograph. See some of the examples we’ve provided.

If you need assistance in setting up a photo shoot or need guidance on art direction, please contact University Brand & Marketing: cpabrandmar@yorku.ca or visit yorku.ca/brand for images in the image collection.
Social Media Avatars

To ensure brand consistency across all York University social media channels, we have developed guidelines and templates for profile avatars. These profile avatars are designed to visually identify the institution, no matter what channel or platform, with the audience to establish trust and brand recognition. The University institutional channels (and approved pan-university channels) are the only entities that may use the digital logo. All other channels are categorized into three groups: sub-brands, Faculties, and departments, and will follow the guidelines below.

Sub-brands – have the option to use a photograph, their digital logo, or add a typeface Plex acronym to a solid white background or photograph within their accent-colour circle.

Faculties – have the option to either use a photograph or add a typeface Plex acronym to a solid white background or photograph within their accent-colour circle and “YorkU” bottom ribbon.

Departments – have the option to use a photograph or add a typeface Plex acronym to a solid white background or photograph within the red circle and “YorkU” bottom ribbon.

If you need new Social Media Avatars, please contact University & Brand Marketing: cpadigit@yorku.ca.

Brand Guidelines
2020 — Version 1.6
yorku.ca/brand
Section 4.0
As part of the brand platform toolkit, a suite of unique emblems has been developed for use by the York community. The emblems are based on a common geometrical lozenge shape, derived from the interior of the “U” in the York University square symbol.

The emblems are flexible enough to be used in print and digital applications, and provide another element for expression – from embellishing design to wayfinding and action items. Because the emblems are based on geometry, there are opportunities to create new versions to suit your message, but please contact University Brand & Marketing for these requests.

Please remember, these emblems are used as accents and are not to be used beside a word mark or to create a logo. This is important in order to protect York’s brand integrity.

You can download these emblems at yorku.ca/brand.

York U Shuttles

The York U shuttles are a great place to promote your message – complementary to the York community, they offer transportation services between York U and the Village (small buses), and Keele and Glendon campuses (big buses). On average, shuttles transport approximately 500 students per day on 26 shuttles to and from Glendon. That’s an average of 10,000 students per month from September to April across our campuses, providing you with a unique opportunity to reach a wide student audience. The cost to post something inside the shuttle is free (excluding the cost of printing).

Bus ad space specifications:

- Small buses: 9 ¾” x 11’ 10” or 9 ½” x 14’ 8”
- Small GMC low floor accessible bus: 10.5” H X 15’6” L or 10.5” H X 12’4” L
- Large buses (school buses): 6” H X 27” L  6  Sections Right side / 5 sections Left side
- 6”H X 37” L  1 Section Left side

YFile

YFile is York University’s campus “newsletter,” reporting on institutional news, major events, research and people. (YFile’s reporters provide event coverage for major pan-University events.) Published by York University’s Communications & Public Affairs Division, YFile is distributed by email each Tuesday and Thursday (during the COVID-19 pandemic), with special issues on the first and third Friday of each month. More than 5,000 faculty and staff of the University receive YFile each week. To learn more, visit the More about YFile page or contact Jenny Pitt-Clark, YFile editor.

Ad size: 580 x 340 pixels

yu link

Yu link is York University’s intranet – a Passport York–protected site that is the central location for all things York. Employees visit yu link daily to find forms, documents, news and information geared toward the internal York community. Using yu link to share information, whether in the form of an announcement or news piece, is a quick way to reach thousands of faculty and staff. Please contact Vanessa Thompson and Karen Traboulay for more information.
LCD Screens

Promotional space for upcoming initiatives is available on York U’s network of LCD screens. To book space, contact University Brand & Marketing.

Refer to the requirements, suggestions and image examples to help you create high-quality ads and find success on the LCD platform. The ads run for 10 seconds each.

1. The York U logo is consistently located in the top left corner so your creative must not include the logo.
2. Incorporate an image whenever possible.
3. Limit content to three or fewer ideas.
4. Keep it simple – this is not the medium to explain all of the fine print. Add a URL to the site where people can go for all of the details. Whenever possible, use the shorter yorku.ca/... naming convention.
5. Avoid small text. People are viewing this from a distance and are typically walking by. Best practice is to keep text to a maximum of 30% coverage as per examples to the right.

SPECS:
- Creative size: 1190w x 670h pixels
- OR
  - 1920w x 1080h pixels (aspect ratio of 16:9)

Creative formats:
- JPEG or PNG at 72dpi (minimum)
- MP4 (video files to be produced in 16:9 aspect ratio with a minimum resolution of 835 x 470 pixels)
The York U logo should always appear at the top of all e-communication, so it is instantly recognized as York University correspondence. If, however, the e-communication is in an attachment, the regular logo placement is acceptable. On the right are examples.

For generic York U email templates and header graphics, visit yorku.ca/brand.

Customized template/headers are available upon request. Please contact University Brand & Marketing.
Email Signatures

There are three versions of email signatures for you to use; York U generic signature, customized Faculty and sub-brand signatures. Select the version that represents your area. Go to yorku.ca/brand to download the word document and update accordingly.

INSTRUCTIONS:
• Use the template provided that best suits your area/division, Faculty or sub-brand
• Edit the text to reflect your personal information.
• Be sure to reset the links for your email address and website if necessary.
• Once your edits have been completed, copy and paste the text into a new signature within Outlook preferences.

Rules:
1. No other logos are permitted other than the York U logo.
2. Only one ranking is permitted, in text, at the bottom of the signature at one time. Select one that best represents your area.
3. Gender Pronouns: Include your pronouns below your name. For example: she / her; they / them
4. Do not change the size or position of the York logos.
5. Due to AODA, do not replace the vertical bar with a bullet.
6. Keep line length to under 55 characters to avoid text wrapping (bad breaks) on mobile devices.
7. Land Acknowledgement: include after logo and ranking.

A York U PowerPoint template is available at yorku.ca/brand. The template has been designed as a “theme” with the York-approved primary and secondary colours and fonts embedded for ease of use. Branded layouts are also included for title slides and section slides, featuring the York colours and campus photos.

Feel free to change these photos as you see fit for your presentation, but note that in order to protect the integrity of the brand, the York U logo must appear on the title slide. Campus images can be found in the York U Image collection at yorku.ca/brand.

Sub-brands and Faculties can use their locked logo in the presentation. If you require assistance to customize a York U PowerPoint template, please contact University Brand & Marketing.

It is the responsibility of the user to maintain AODA compliance when adding content and graphics. For AODA guidelines, please refer to “Accessibility” at https://aodaweb.info.yorku.ca/.
Website

The web is a critical communication tool for York U and is the primary recruitment vehicle. That is why it is important to provide a memorable online experience that reflects the brand. Built on research, input and feedback from key website users, our digital properties incorporate the latest trends in design and functionality.

DIGITAL LOGOS
There is a unified online relationship between York U and its sub-brands. In web applications, the sub-brand logos appear left of the global navigation in locked form. For Faculty, division and unit websites, the primary York U digital logo remains in the upper left of the global navigation. The Faculty, division and unit name appears in text in the York U solid red bar beneath the global navigation, as pictured to the right. In addition, Faculties are provided with a faculty-specific global navigation with key audience objectives in mind.

RESPONSIVE DESIGN THEME
As user behaviour evolves, delivering a consistent and cohesive user experience across the University’s more than one million web pages is of utmost importance. The York2020 responsive design theme in WordPress provides the best user experience for any device.

URL NAMING CONVENTION
To allow for consistent branding and better use of SEO, all new websites using yorku.ca in their URL must use this theme (exceptions may apply). When promoting your website, please ensure the yorku.ca/sitename URL is used and a redirect to the site page set up. Consult Digital Marketing at cpadigit@yorku.ca in University Brand & Marketing for more info.

CREATING YOUR NEW WEBSITE

Video – Lower Thirds

Consistency in video applications builds awareness and helps to solidify brand recognition. Guidelines for the “lower thirds” provides details pertaining to the location of name, title and subject matter while working within the Design System. To download template files, visit yorku.ca/brand.

The York watermark is optional and only to be used in paid advertisements, boosted social media, or any video that has the potential of being viewed or shared outside of York University channels. For example: Markham Campus announcements. The watermark would appear and stay for the duration of the video. For longer videos or those with a multitude of graphics and text, it can be used intermittently at the discretion of the user, in order to minimize distractions.

Merchandise

Merchandise includes a wide range of items, such as tote bags, pens, clothing, mugs and more. Sub-brands and Faculties can use their locked logos on merchandise. If space is limited, the logo can be unlocked, but the York U logo or “York University” in text must always both appear.

Divisions and Units

You can express your division or unit in the University font with the York logo or with “York University” in text. Please work directly with the York University Bookstore to place an order for merchandise. York U has also established a list of approved and licensed merchandise suppliers.

All designs must be submitted to University & Brand Marketing, (cpabrandmar@yorku.ca) as well as the Licensing Board for approval prior to production.

General Guidelines

- Logo should be large enough that the type is clear and legible.
- Logo should be used in black or white or red PMS 186. If this colour is not available, match it as closely as possible.
- Embroidered logo should be large enough so “University/Université” is legible.
- In cases where these specifications are not possible, contact University Brand & Marketing: cpabrandmar@yorku.ca.
- Most vendors work with EPS files, which can be downloaded at yorku.ca/brand.

Examples are for reference only. Colour reproduction must match York U colours.
Stationery

Faculties and Departments
York U’s Printing Services manages printing for all York U branded stationery and can assist you with all your stationery needs.

Sub-brands have a full set of stationery elements available that include their sub-brand logos. Graduate student business cards are available by request through the Faculty’s dean’s office. Students must receive approval from their dean before cards are produced.

Usage
Any York branded material, whether it be the logo or letterhead, can only be used by York University employees when speaking on behalf of the University. Branded materials are meant only for institutional usage and are not permitted for personal or student use. There is an alternate version available for grad students, as well as additional languages. Contact Printing Services for more details.
Electronic Letterhead
Electronic letterhead is only to be used in an email attachment that is not intended to be printed by the receiver.

The template is not to be altered and must not be printed on a colour printer, as the logo will likely not match the official colour.

You can access the electronic letterhead template online at yorku.ca/brand.

Fax and Memo Templates
York memo and fax templates are available online at yorku.ca/brand.
Using Print Letterhead

York U print letterhead can be ordered, customized and printed through Printing Services.

Preprinted letterhead shells are printed with the York logo, crest and personalized contact info (left-hand side). Once you have the preprinted shells, please use the Word template on the brand website at yorku.ca/brand (set up with the correct margins for your message) for final printing.

Please contact University Brand & Marketing for details on using sub-brand letterhead: cpbrandmar@yorku.ca.
