Announcing Summer C4 (3.0)

Forty undergraduates who are new to C4 work intensively over the summer with an energetic and dynamic team on one big, complex, multi-disciplinary project, pitched by a single off-campus partner invested in social impact. Students are broken up into sub-teams and project managed by ten C4 alumni who are registered in C4 Management.

C4 Launchpad: Only 40 spots available

Are you C4 curious? Ready to gain skills in interdisciplinary teamwork?
Want to work closely with a community or industry partner on a real-world project?

Then, C4 Launchpad is for you...

Ideal for

Students new to C4 who want to engage across disciplinary boundaries on a large, complex, social-impact project and grow professionally.

Time Commitments

Students spend three hours per week in the C4 classroom and three hours per week working outside of class within a small sub-team. The remainder of their time is spent working independently on their tasks for their sub-team.

Transferable Skills

Cross-disciplinary collaboration, professional relationship building, ethical decision making, community engagement, sustainability consciousness, large real-world project tracking, and rapid prototyping.

Requirements

C4 Launchpad can be taken as a precursor to any of the other C4 options or on its own by students in the third, fourth, or fifth years of their undergraduate degrees.

C4 Management: Only 10 spots available

Are you a C4 alumni? Ready to further develop your leadership and project management skills?
Eager to dive into an even bigger real-world project?

Then C4 Management is for you...

Ideal for

C4 alumni who want to hone their management skills by leading a large, complex project with one large team of undergraduates from across the campus.

Time Commitments

Students spend three hours per week in the C4 classroom and three hours per week outside of class managing small sub-teams. The remainder of their time is spent working independently on their tasks for their sub-team.

Transferable Skills

Collaborative project management, facilitating inclusiveness, ethical leadership development, sustainability consciousness, trans-disciplinary communication, and large, real-world project tackling.

Requirements

C4 Management is ONLY for students who have taken C4 before. This course, within a course, focuses on leadership skills, with different outcomes and responsibilities for managing a team of up to 40 undergraduate students.

Want to know more? Questions about how registration works?
Ready to sign up?
Then, email c4class@yorku.ca for more information.