

Exploring the possibilities of your degree.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN BECOMING A CORPORATE TRAINER OR HR CONSULTANT?

If you're interested in undertaking either the corporate trainer or HR consultant career paths, here are some things to consider if this is the right field for you...

1 CORPORATE TRAINER

A Corporate Trainer is someone who is responsible for maximizing a company's productivity through creative and effective training foundation.

2 HR CONSULTANT

An HR Consultant is someone who works externally to manage human resource programs and projects.

3 QUALIFICATIONS

Bachelors degree in Human Resources, Business Management, or similar.

JOB TASKS

4 Use lectures, seminars, and team exercises to incorporate new skills and knowledge to employees. Can also be responsible for employee and client development, contracts, training departments, and employee and client management.

5 PERSONALITY TRAITS

Do you possess time management, mentorship, mediation, communication, people assessment skills? Are you personable? Do you like helping people?

6 WORK-LIFE BALANCE

Corporate Trainers and HR Consultants do not always have a fixed work week. This career often requires people to accommodate the schedule of others; these careers can be spontaneous.

For more information about careers that could be of interest to a graduate from the BA Educational Studies, please visit: yorku.ca/edu/4999/