Your Pathway to a Confident Future

A small Faculty with a big heart, located in midtown Toronto, Glendon offers sought-after hands-on programs and research opportunities. You'll find professors that are leaders in their field, and accessible staff that provide an engaging and nurturing learning environment. You'll be able to develop a language advantage, and acquire or master a second (a 3rd, or more) language. Our academic programming includes bachelor degrees, certificates, and graduate studies which can be personalized for part-time or full-time studies.

We can make the impossible possible when diverse communities come together to create positive change.

Let Us Help You!

I transferred to Glendon from one of the big university campuses in Toronto in part because that big impersonal environment wasn't meant for me. I needed a personal approach within my academics, and that's exactly what Glendon is about! I was happy and relieved I had finally found my place - it feels like home.”

“

I had some unsatisfactory experiences within bigger universities and colleges and decided to take a few years off of school. I needed to find an environment that truly suited my learning needs. Being just a number was not a viable existence for me in an educational system. Glendon provided an intimate learning experience that truly accommodated what I needed to succeed. The program was small enough that you knew just about everyone in your program and got very familiar with professors. Within my first year, I knew something clicked. I had found my community.”
