GLENDON CAMPUS

YORK UNIVERSITY

GLENDON

YORK
UNIVERSITÉ
UNIVERSITY

Throughout this viewbook, you'll find real quotes from current Glendon students (like this one!).

These words highlight what they love most about Glendon and offer a glimpse into what you'll find as part of our incredible community.

Keep an eye out as you read!

On the cover, Glendon Hall, originally the Wood family estate, celebrates its 100th anniversary this year. Happy birthday!

Your Future, Your Way

Choosing a university is a big decision, because you're not just planning for the next three or four years. You're thinking about the kind of impact you want to make, the career you want to build, and the person you want to become. At Glendon, we help you make it all happen, propelling you from our campus to wherever your ambitions take you around the world.

Here's what you can expect from your Glendon experience:

- Programs built around your passions. From tackling global issues and public policy to exploring business, languages, education, environmental science, social issues and beyond, Glendon gives you the tools to turn curiosity into career-ready skills.
- Professors who know you and care about your success. Even as one of Canada's top 10 institutions for over 15 subjects (according to the 2025 QS World University Rankings), small classes mean your ideas get airtime, your questions get answers, and your goals guide the conversation.
- Learning that works as hard as you do. First-year research, professional placements, and other one-of-a-kind opportunities let you test-drive your future long before graduation.
- A degree that speaks multiple languages. Study in English, French, or both—or even add another language such as Spanish or Anishinaabemowin—and graduate with a cross-cultural edge valued by employers both in Canada and around the world.
- A one-of-a-kind passport to possibility. Whether through study-abroad exchanges or even an international degree, Glendon unlocks the doors and hands you the keys to a truly global future.

And you'll get the best of both worlds. Find calm and community on our breathtaking campus located minutes away from Toronto's downtown core while tapping into the energy, culture, and careers that Canada's largest city has to offer.

This is more than where you'll study. It's where your journey—and your future—begins.

Our Programs

Your journey starts with a program that reflects your core interests and goals. You'll build valuable skills, gain hands-on experience, and prepare for what comes next, whether that's a career in an in-demand industry or graduate studies in fields like law, medicine, or education.

But your choices don't end there! No two students are the same, and neither is any Glendon experience. Here, you'll have the flexibility to personalize your education with double majors, minors, certificates, and more. These options allow you to combine disciplines, explore new passions, and design an education as multidimensional as your ambitions.

Explore your program pathways on these pages, then learn how to make them your own on page 8.

Not sure where to start?

Deciding on a program can feel overwhelming. That's why our First Year Exploration option gives you the time and space to discover what inspires you, without delaying your degree. You'll take two specially designed courses to build your skills and confidence, explore different disciplines, and connect with a supportive community of students and advisors before deciding on your major at the end of the first year.

Your future doesn't have to start with all the answers; just the right environment to discover them!

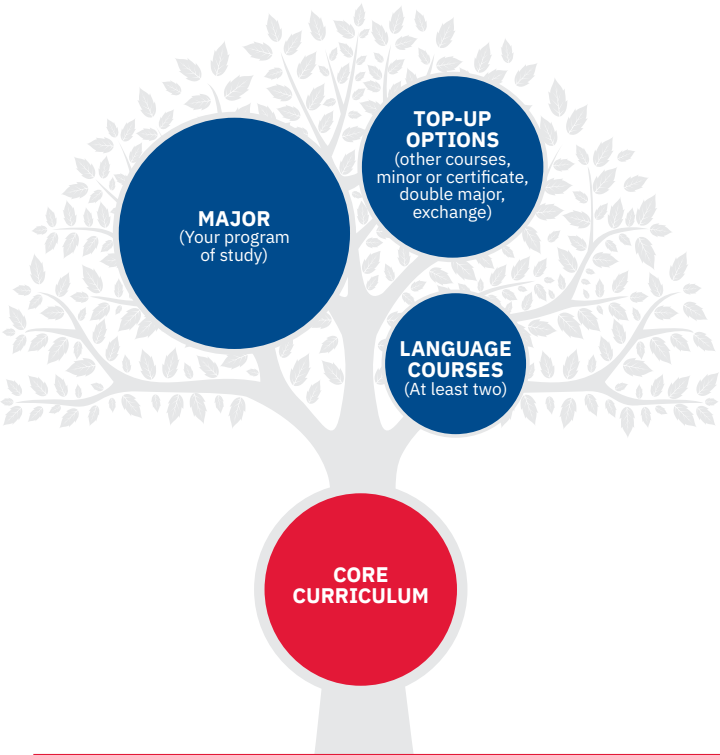

Behind Every Number is a Reason to Choose Glendon

At Glendon, you’re more than just a number, but the numbers still matter. They show what makes our uniquely supportive campus stand out, while our access to York University’s other campuses brings your post-secondary experience to the next level.

From What You’ll Find at Glendon...

17	is the number of United Nations Sustainable Development Goals York is committed to

Building a Strong Foundation, No Matter Your Program

No matter what you choose to study, our Core Curriculum is a launchpad that prepares you for today’s challenges and tomorrow’s possibilities, equipping you with the skills every career needs—like critical thinking, communication, research, and intercultural understanding. Through courses grounded in real-world issues and global perspectives and taken alongside your program studies, you’ll grow as a well-rounded leader and collaborator with the tools to succeed in any field, anywhere in the world.

Scan the QR code to learn more about the Core Curriculum and discover sample courses.

Leading From the Classroom and Beyond

At Glendon, your professors aren’t just teachers—they’re influential researchers, innovators and changemakers themselves. You’ll learn from the very people who are shaping the world and leading in the fields you’re preparing to enter, while having the chance to get involved in their work from day one (see page 13 for more information).

Here’s just a glimpse of what makes our faculty unique:

- Professors recognized among Canada’s top scholars, including Royal Society Fellows;
- Exciting research happening in areas like human rights, politics, science, and culture;
- and Millions in research funding that helps create hands-on opportunities for students like you!

Faculty Innovation with Student Involvement

When you choose Glendon, you don’t just learn about innovation; you help shape it! Just ask students contributing to the groundbreaking work of Professor Maya Chacaby, whose latest project is transforming how Indigenous language and knowledge are shared.

Professor Chacaby is leading the creation of the Biskaabiyaang Metaverse, a game-based virtual world that brings Anishinaabemowin language and culture to life through immersive digital experiences. Developed in partnership with Elders, youth, and educators, the project blends education, technology, and Indigenous knowledge in bold new ways.

And as a student, you can contribute to projects like these! Under the expert guidance of distinguished faculty like Professor Chacaby, you can get involved in testing, translation, research, or community engagement, gaining hands-on experience while making a real impact—all before you graduate!

Make It Your Own

Once you’ve chosen a program, you’ll have the freedom to take it even further by combining subjects, exploring new areas, and building a degree that captures everything you’re passionate about. Whether you want to deepen your expertise, connect disciplines to solve big challenges, or stay ready for emerging careers in our fast-changing world, your education can grow and evolve with you.

Minor

Are you curious about adding a second discipline but want more freedom than committing to a second full major? A minor in the following disciplines allows you to explore interests while building on the skills acquired in your major:

- Biology
- Canadian Studies
- Communications
- Drama and Creative Arts
- Economics
- English
- Ethics and Political Philosophy
- French Studies
- Gender and Women’s Studies
- Global History and Justice
- International Studies
- Linguistics, Language and Society
- Mathematics and Its Applications
- Political Science
- Psychology
- Sexuality Studies
- Sociology
- Spanish and Latin American Culture and Societies

Double Major

Looking to deepen your expertise across two fields of study? A double major gives you the chance to pursue two full areas of academic focus. Once you’re admitted to the major of your choice, you’ll have the option to add a second major from either another Glendon program or from across York University’s faculties. Some students choose a first major aligned with their career goals, and pair it with a second major that reflects both who they are and where they’re headed.

Certificates

Our certificates let you sharpen real-world skills in a specific area of professional or academic interest while completing your degree, adding value to your studies and résumé without committing to a full major or minor. Each certificate offers focused, practical learning to help you compete in today’s job market. All certificates can be completed as part of your bachelor’s degree, and some are available on their own after you graduate:

- Discipline of Teaching English as an International Language (D-TEIL)
- Interdisciplinary Certificate in Public History
- Law and Social Thought
- Refugee and Migration Studies
- Sexuality Studies
- Spanish/English – English/Spanish Translation
- Spanish for Business and Professional Communications
- Technical and Professional Communications

Go Further With Graduate Programs

Ready to keep going after your undergrad? We give you the opportunity to continue your academic journey, collaborate with leading thinkers and researchers, and shape the future of your field through the following graduate programs:

- MA in Conference Interpreting
- MA in French Studies
- MA in Public And International Affairs
- MA in Translation
- PhD in Francophone Studies

Go Global: From Glendon to the Workplace and the World

Your future doesn't stop at the classroom or the city limits. At Glendon, your education is designed to be global, taking you across disciplines, beyond borders, and directly into the real world. Through experiential learning—both in Canada and abroad—you'll build the kind of perspective, experience, confidence, and versatile skills that help you make an impact from day one.

Gain Hands-On Experience

Our Experiential Education options help you apply in real-world setting what you have learned in class, giving you up to 240 hours of experience through professional placements and internships.

You could work in non-governmental or arts organizations, government ministries and agencies, cultural institutions, international companies, and countless others. Every placement counts toward your degree, builds in-demand skills, and helps you graduate with a standout résumé, ready to make an impact from day one.

Plus, eligible students can access bursary support to help cover placement-related costs, so you can focus on what matters most: learning, growing, and launching your future.

Here are just some of the many places past students have completed their placements:

- Amnesty International
- Ontario Public Service
- Government of Canada
- Deloitte
- Hockey Hall of Fame

I've been dreaming of traveling since I was a little kid, and Glendon gave me the opportunity to study abroad. I met so many wonderful people—it helped me grow and develop—it opened me to new ideas, new experiences, and a whole part of the world I hadn't explored.

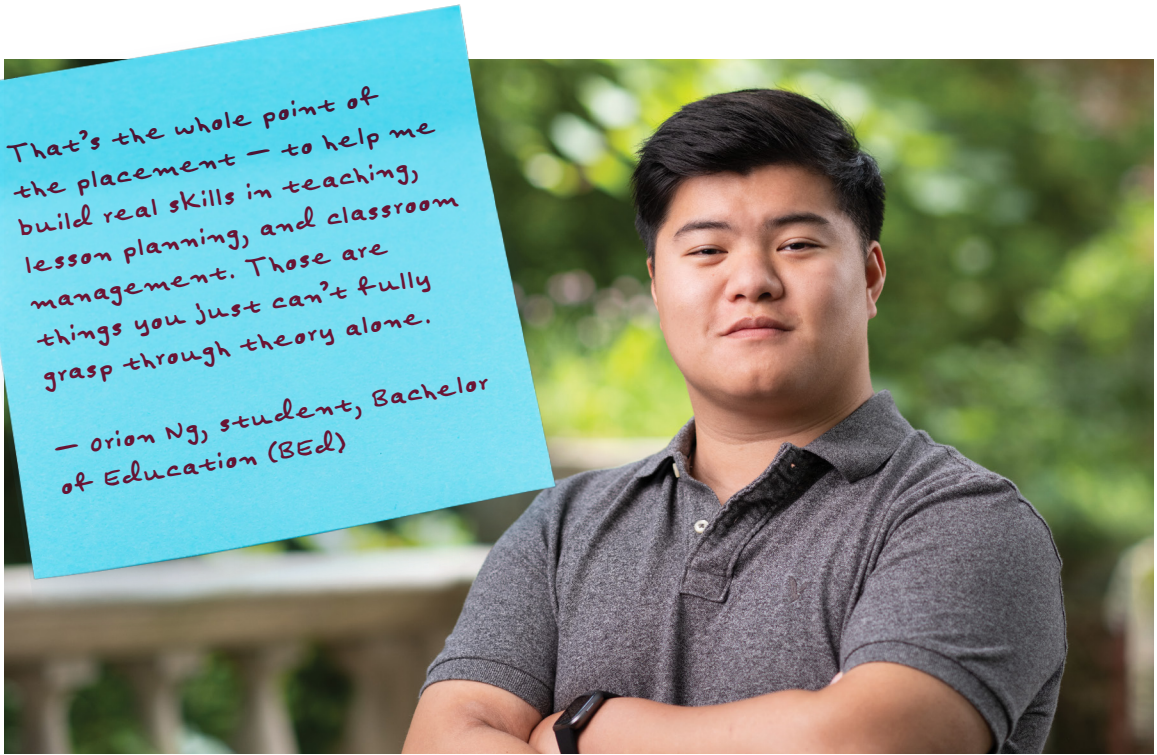

— Grace Halford

Study and Work Abroad

Turn your placement opportunity into an international learning adventure through our network of 300+ study-abroad exchanges and international internships. Spend a semester, summer, or full year, earn academic credit, and come home with new skills and fresh perspectives. All students can participate in an exchange or take a course abroad, and with support from our team and even financial aid, these experiences are more accessible than ever. Funding includes:

- Up to $1,200 through the York International Mobility Award
- $3,000 through the York International Internship Award

Scan the QR code to discover possible destinations for study-abroad exchanges and internships.

That's the whole point of the placement — to help me build real skills in teaching, lesson planning, and classroom management. Those are things you just can't fully grasp through theory alone.

— Orion Ng, student, Bachelor of Education (BEd)

International Bachelor's Degrees (iBA/iBSc)

Looking for a globally focused degree from day one? Glendon is the only university campus in Canada where every program can lead to an international bachelor's degree. These unique iBA/iBSc options combine your academic program with built-in cross-cultural perspectives and international experience, giving you a clear edge in today's interconnected world.

You're not alone!

Glendon's Experiential Education Office is here to help you find a placement that's the right fit for you. Scan the QR code to learn more.

Excellence isn't a Destination — it's a Mindset

At Glendon, you'll find multiple ways to mobilize this mindset to go further, think bigger, and find your success. Whether you want to push the limits of innovation through entrepreneurship, contribute to groundbreaking research, or join a community of top scholars, we offer the pathways to help you achieve your highest potential, starting right now.

Here are just some areas where we can help you reach even further:

Management

Step straight into a one-year Pathway to Master in Management (MMgt) at the Schulich School of Business, Canada's top-ranked business school, immediately after completing your 4-year BA or BSc program (except for the Business Economics, Economics, and Dual Degree programs).

Scan the QR code to view the admission criteria and deadlines.

I received a lot of help throughout GENIAL. There was never a point where I said, 'Oh, this is something I should rethink doing' because I kept getting the help I needed. If you're going to go into a program of that sort, you want to feel on par with the other students and can learn at the same pace.

— Gabrielle Cooper Saint Cyr

Entrepreneurship

Do you have a business idea, or are you curious about where entrepreneurship could take you? GENIAL (Glendon Entrepreneuriat et Innovation A L'international) is your launchpad. Open to all students, this hands-on incubator offers entrepreneurship courses, start-up hackathons, speaker events, and business competitions. This includes the annual Student Entrepreneurship Competition, where you can pitch your ideas to real entrepreneurs and build the confidence, skills, and connections to turn ambition into action.

Top Scholars

Admitted with a 90%+ average? You're automatically invited to our Top Scholars Community—a cohort that supports academic excellence and leadership from day one. Up to 100 new students can take advantage of several exclusive perks, including:

- Eligible to join the Research Apprenticeship Program (RAP) as soon as your first year
- Mentorship and exclusive group activities
- Free gym membership
- Special welcome and networking reception with the Principal

As an undergraduate at Glendon, you get the unique opportunity to work directly with a professor or scientist, taking a research idea from concept to execution. It's rare to have that kind of hands-on experience so early on, and it prepares you for future graduate-level research."

— Professor Buddhika Bellana, Psychology

Research

From your very first year, you'll have the chance to dive into hands-on research, make a meaningful impact in your field of interest, and build a resume that sets you apart and gives you a competitive advantage with grad schools and employers. This includes:

- Research practicums in the community
- Paid and volunteer research positions
- Undergraduate research fairs
- Labs and field courses

The Research Apprenticeship Program helped me deepen my understanding of psychology beyond the classroom. It really enhanced my overall learning experience by teaching me valuable skills in literature review, data analysis, and critical thinking."

— Alicia Santoo

Meeting You Where You Are

Think you have to speak French to study at Glendon? Think again!

While we believe that studying another language opens minds and doors, some students come to us with no prior knowledge of French, while others are multilingual. We're here to support your progression regardless of where you start and how far you wish to go.

Which path is right for me?

Our degrees are flexible, and so is your journey at Glendon. It doesn't matter if you speak one or several languages when you arrive—there's a pathway that matches your personal goals and supports your success. Choose the one that fits you best:

1

I don't speak French, or I don't wish to obtain a bilingual degree.

You'll complete just two French courses (6 credits) at any level, giving you more room to focus on your major. A wide range of programs offer that option.

RESULT: Glendon Degree with minimal language requirement

2

I want to graduate with a bilingual degree.

You'll complete 6 credits in French (either in a French as a second language course or a course specific to your area of study that is taught in French). A quick assessment will help determine your starting point—either at the introductory level where you can build up your skills gradually, or at a more advanced level if you're already fluent.

RESULT: Glendon Bilingual Degree

Note: Are you interested to learn Spanish? We also offer a certificate of trilingualism English – French – Spanish. Speak to our academic advising team to select appropriate courses.*

3

I self-identify as First Nations, Métis, or Inuit and want to take Indigenous language courses.

You'll complete 6 credits in an Indigenous language—including Anishinaabemowin (Ojibway) or Kanien'kéha (Mohawk)—instead of French or English. This option is available in select Glendon BA programs. Check with our academic advising team for details.

RESULT: Glendon Degree with Indigenous language option

Rajdeep Gill didn't speak French...

"I had enrolled at Glendon, hearing great things about the campus. My French was quite weak since I only took it in grade 9. When I was told of a flexible option by my academic advisor, I knew I had to take it! It helped me make space to focus on my program while adding a minor and a certificate so that I can pursue my dreams of becoming an international English teacher."

...neither did Anmol Kaur!

"Before coming to Glendon, I wasn't comfortable speaking, reading, or writing in French. I didn't attend a French immersion school, but I gradually built my skills here through FSL classes and the Salon francophone."

The Not-So-Secret Glendon Advantage

Studying a new language provides you with unique communication skills while helping you gain a new perspective on the world as you navigate diversity more effectively—a highly sought-after ability in today's world.

Resources to support your language journey:

Need help with writing, reading, conversation, or building confidence in French or another new language?

We offer dedicated spaces and services to help boost your skills in academic writing, speaking, and cultural understanding through:

- Salon Francophone
- Leslie Frost Library
- Spanish Resource Centre
- ESL Open Learning Centre
- Las Nubes, York University's EcoCampus in Costa Rica

DID YOU KNOW?

Widely spoken in 165 countries, English, French and Spanish are the official working languages of large organizations. You can study these three languages, as well as Anishinaabemowin, at Glendon. In addition, 20 other languages are offered at York's Keele campus, a free shuttle ride away.

Employees who are bilingual in English and French are generally paid anywhere from 10% to 30% more in the local job market than unilingual candidates.

A worldwide focus on public health and environmental issues calls for more graduates who can work in the science professions, in increasingly multilingual and multicultural contexts.

If you want to have an impact on the world stage, it's increasingly critical to be able to conduct business in more than one language with people from various cultural backgrounds.

A Small Campus, A Big Support System

When you arrive at Glendon, you become part of a vibrant and welcoming community. Set on one of Canada’s most beautiful campuses, we offer more than just a scenic place to learn. You’ll find personalized support to help you thrive, while tight-knit connections with classmates, faculty, and staff will shape your experience in meaningful ways. And whether you are looking for academic assistance, emotional well-being resources, mentorship, career advice, or ways to get involved, we’ve got you covered.

Academic Services and Student Support

A convenient help desk and team of academic advisors provide resources to support your academic success, whether you have questions about program requirements, student records or enrolling in courses. Looking for one-on-one support with writing, studying, and time management? Our Writing Centre has what you need to stay on track!

Accessibility & Well-Being

Your well-being matters. You’ll find personalized support through culturally inclusive counselling and health services through the Student Counselling, Health & Well-being (SCHW) team. And if you need someone to talk to, accommodations for your learning, or just peace of mind, help is always nearby—including Student Accessibility Services (SAS) and 24/7 support in residence.

Career Services

Our Career Development Centre offers one-on-one support for general career counselling, job search strategies, LinkedIn profile management, résumés, cover letters, and mock interviews. It also provides networking opportunities through the annual career fair, which welcomes a variety of employers always seeking Glendon talent.

Community & Campus Life

There’s always something happening here! Get involved with student clubs and associations to explore your passions and connect with like-minded peers, or attend campus-wide events like Spirit Day and cultural nights.

Glendon Athletic Club

The Raptors once trained here —now it’s your turn.

The Glendon Athletic Club isn’t just any gym. It was the first-ever training facility for the Toronto Raptors and remains a top-tier athletic space just steps from residence! Inside the 5,110 square metre facility, you’ll find everything you need to stay active and have fun: a fully equipped weight room, basketball court, group exercise classes, and even pickleball. There’s also a swimming pool, soccer field, and indoor golf practice facility.

Residence at Glendon

With 90% single rooms (yes, you’ll get a single room if you want one!), newly renovated and accessible spaces, and an all-inclusive pricing model that covers everything—including internet—residence at Glendon has everything you need to feel right at home. Steps away from the Dining Hall and surrounded by a caring Residence Life Team, it’s a welcoming space where safety, support, and student life come together.

Indigenous & Spiritual Connections

Glendon sits on the traditional territory of many Indigenous Nations, including the Anishinabek Nation, the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, the Huron-Wendat, and the Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation, who are the current treaty holders. We honour these relationships and continue to learn from them. York’s Centre for Indigenous Student Services, located at the Keele Campus, offers welcoming, culturally grounded support, while the Interfaith Centre at Glendon provides a quiet, inclusive space for students and staff of all beliefs to pray, reflect, or meditate.

“Ancient Country Seat”

Inaugurated in June 2025, this bench/sculpture by Secwépemc artist Tania Willard invites our students, faculty, staff, and community to engage in meaningful reflection, connection, and gathering. Rooted in Indigenous traditions and healing, it incorporates sage and tobacco in its concrete, symbolizing a powerful blend of culture, land, and community.

Ancient Country Seat

Spaces to Focus and Create

Need a quiet place to focus or dive into research? The peaceful Leslie Frost Library is your go-to spot, offering access to books, online databases, research help, and more.

But the inspiration doesn’t stop there! Thanks to our beautiful, park-like campus in the heart of Toronto, you’ll find cozy corners and serene study spaces all around Glendon—perfect for reading, reflecting, or getting that assignment done.

And when inspiration and creativity strike, Glendon gives you the tools to act on them. The Glendon Digital Media Lab offers space, equipment, and tutorials to explore and create digital experiences and bring your ideas to life. You can also sign up for an immersive technology bootcamp called Storytelling in Extended Reality.

Financial Aid

Your academic journey should be focused on learning, not worrying about finances. Our Student Financial Services team can guide and assist you with OSAP, scholarships and bursaries, financial literacy, budgeting, etc. If it involves funding your studies, we are here to help!

We offer generous entrance awards so you can focus on your goals, knowing we’re invested in your success. With an admission average of 80% or higher (Canadian high school or CÉGEP), you can receive an entrance award that is renewable for up to four years:

95% or Higher	$3,500 per year
90% – 94.9%	$2,000 per year
85% – 89.9%	$1,500 per year
80% – 84.9%	$1,000 per year

Nearly $1 million awarded every year, including:

$5,000 for high-achieving students.

The renewable Albert V. Tucker Entrance Scholarship recognizes academic excellence and leadership in student life.

$3,000 available to those learning French as a Second Language.

Glendon is the only bilingual campus in Toronto offering these generous bursaries.

Important Dates

Here is how you can stay on track with your admission to Glendon and remain connected.

Sept – Dec 2025

Jan – Apr 2026

Take part in our Fall Campus Day on October 26, where you'll have the chance to speak with our professors and learn about the services we offer.

January 15, 2026: This is the deadline for submitting applications for the fall 2026 session for all Ontario high school students.

Supplementary Documentation: If you applied to a program that requires additional assessment, make sure to confirm your specific deadlines and submit any supporting materials; these include:

- BEd in Concurrent Education
- iBA/BBA dual degree in Business Administration and International Studies
- Pathway to Master of Management Program (PMMP)

Scholarships and Bursaries Application: You don't have to wait for an offer of admission to complete this application. Submit early to be considered for as many awards as possible (from both Glendon and York)—some deadlines are as early as mid-February, while the MyFile application closes on April 1.

Spring Events: Join us for the Top Scholar reception or Spring Open House on March 22 to experience Glendon and discover what it's like to be a student here.

Keep checking MyFile and the email account you provided on your application for updates on the status of your application.

You received an offer? Congratulations!

Take a moment to celebrate, but don't forget these important next steps:

Jun 2026

June 1, 2026: Deadline for Ontario high school students to accept their offer. As soon as you accept, book your enrollment appointment on MyFile.

Residence Application: Apply for residence by June 1, if applicable. Your room will be assigned in mid-July.

OSAP Application: Apply for OSAP by June 30 to ensure your funds are available in early September.

Summer Courses: Notify the Office of Admissions if you are enrolling in summer courses, as they may improve your grades, earn you extra credit or even fast-track your admission.

Final Transcript: Your final transcript is required in August.

Jul – Aug 2026

As you plan for the year ahead, consider applying for bursaries or a job on campus through the work-study program. Then, gear up for Glendon Orientation Week in late August, packed with fun events, new connections, and unforgettable memories. With YU START leaders and GL Zone Peer Mentors by your side, you'll feel right at home as you settle in, get connected, and start your Glendon journey.

Early Sept 2026
