

List of Out-of-program Elective Courses

Out-of-program elective courses are drawn from existing courses in other graduate programs and are open to graduate students in a variety of programs at York, depending on availability and demand. The list of courses being offered in the current academic year is available on the York Courses Website.

Students can request to take a course in another graduate program at York, by submitting the completed Request to Take a Course in Another Graduate Program at York form to the Program Office (dsgrads@yorku.ca).

The list of out-of-program elective courses that DVST students had taken in the past, starting from 2016, is as follows. Please note that not all courses will be offered each year.
