

Date	Speaker(s)
Fall Term 2023
Sept. 8	Welcome and Faculty Introductions and Pizza Lunch
Sept. 15	Vanessa Lamb, Associate Professor, Department of Social Science, York University Following a disappearing resource: Research on diverse sand economies + the sand crisis in Southeast Asia
Sept. 22	Sophia Ilyniak, PhD Candidate, Geography, York University Prateeksha Pathak, PhD Candidate, Geography, York University
Sept. 29	David Fasenfest, Associate Professor, Sociology, Wayne State University Limits of Economic Sociology: A Marxist Alternative
Oct. 6	Stephanie Gora, Assistant Professor, Lassonde School of Engineering, York University Assessing the potential impacts of climate change on boil water advisories and water safety in Canada
Oct. 20	Raju Das, Professor, EUC, York University What on earth is Marxist geography?
Oct. 27	TBA
Nov. 3	Ann Marie Murnaghan, Assistant Professor, Department of Humanities, York University Rematriation: A model for a decolonising approach to research in communities
Nov. 10	Catherine M. Dieleman, Assistant Professor of Boreal Forest Ecology, School of Environmental Sciences, University of Guelph The Boreal Forest Under Environmental Change: Building a Resilient Future
Nov. 17	Patricia Wood, Professor EUC, Graduate Program Director, Women and Gender Studies, York University What kind of infrastructure for what kind of city? How public transportation shapes urban citizenship
Nov. 24	Luisa Sotomayor, Associate Professor EUC, Director, City Institute, York University
Dec 1	Richard Bello, Emeritus, Geography Graduate Program, York University