Instructions to Students:

This reading list has been designed in such a way that balances required readings with readings chosen by the student.

When composing your readings list, please consider the following guidelines:

1. To fulfill the requirements of this exam, students must select a minimum of 4 books (4 books =20 articles) from the theory section and 3 books (3 books = 15 articles) from each other section.

2. Readings chosen by the student that do not appear on this list may be included in consultation with their comprehensive exam committee (up to a maximum of 25% of your final reading list).

3. With the agreement of their comprehensive committee, students may substitute works by the same author in place of books by that author currently on the list (e.g., substitute a different work by Stuart Hall to the books or articles listed).

4. In total, you should create a reading list consisting of the equivalent of 25 medium sized books (5 journal articles or chapters = 1 medium-sized book). Students may choose individual chapters from any of the edited collections included in this reading list.
