Memo

To: Karen Valihora, Department of English Language and Literature
From: Lisa Sloniowski, English Literature Librarian, Scott Library
Subject: Library statement for ENGL 6000: Literary Research Methods
Date: Friday, November 2, 2018

I have reviewed the new course proposal for ENGL 6000: Literary Research Methods. The library has all of the items on the bibliography, as well as a wealth of handbooks on research and writing methods for graduate students in the humanities, books on literary editing and books and articles on the digital humanities. I therefore feel very confident that York Libraries will be able to support the course.

Sincerely,

Lisa Sloniowski,
English Literature Librarian, York University Libraries
