See Types of Theses/Types of Dissertation section for definitions.

*Note: Students wishing to undertake a thesis/dissertation that does not align with one of the above-mentioned formats are expected to initiate discussions with their supervisory committee and director of the graduate program concerned as early as possible (see Suitability of Proposed Format section at Master's Thesis or Doctoral Dissertation for more information).

Students are responsible for ensuring the final submission of their thesis/dissertation complies with the submission and technical requirements as outlined at Master's Thesis or Doctoral Dissertation. Please contact your graduate program office for further support.

Risk to Researcher

Are you travelling outside of Canada to conduct this research? *
- Yes
- No

Does the proposed research pose elevated risk to myself as the researcher requiring further health and safety considerations? *
- Yes
- No

Please consult the Graduate Student Risk Assessment Guidelines for information regarding risk assessment and planning.
The picture below shows that a thesis/dissertation proposal is a required attachment in the documents tab. It is the only required document because a “Type A: No human participants, no animals, no biohazards, and no secondary data analysis” was selected on the “student information” tab.

Acceptable formats for attaching documents below are: .pdf

The grey ‘Complete’ button on the top right will turn red when all required fields are satisfied, and it is possible to submit the proposal milestone. Unsure why you cannot submit? Click the ‘Save’ button to save your work on the submission and continue it later. If something is missing, a red box will appear with information to help guide you to complete the sections that are incomplete. The picture below shows a red box with information about what sections are missing. Click on the underlined list of outstanding items to learn more about what is missing.

When the “complete” button is grey. It is possible to save, but not yet possible to submit the proposal milestone.

When the “complete” button is red, it is possible to click “complete” to submit the proposal milestone.
The picture below shows an example of an email that you will receive an email confirmation once your proposal milestone has been submitted successfully:

Proposal Milestone Submission Confirmation

To: Anne Stebbins; Anne Stebbins

Wed 8/7/2024 1:57 PM

Dear Anne Stebbins,

Please accept this email as confirmation that you have successfully submitted a Proposal Milestone to the Faculty of Graduate Studies. The Proposal Milestone that you have submitted is: E - Human Participants, data collected under faculty research grant with HPRC Approval Certificate.

Thank you,

The Faculty of Graduate Studies
You will also receive an email if your proposal milestone is being returned to you. The picture below shows an example of an email that contains comments/instructions for revision:

Notice of GPA Review Instruction for Revision

Dear EAAstestFN0001 EAAstestLN0001,

Your GPA, Anne Stebbins, has returned your proposal milestone in Electrical Engineering & Computer Science with instructions for revisions.

Comments:
The attached proposal file is corrupt. Please remove the old file and attach a clean copy.

Please login and make the required revisions.

Thank you,

The Faculty of Graduate Studies

The returned proposal milestone will appear in the “My New Proposal Milestones” dashboard and is coloured red. Click on it.
The “instructions” section at the top of the proposal milestone shows the user identification of the person who sent it back to you, as well as their role. The example in the picture below shows that the Graduate Program Assistant (GPA) sent the proposal back to the student and left an instruction that the proposal file was corrupt. Follow the instructions to revise the proposal milestone and then submit it again by clicking on the “complete” button.

Breadcrumb Trail:

A breadcrumb trail is a visual representation that shows where the proposal milestone is in process. To view the breadcrumb trail, click on the proposal milestone found under the “proposal milestone in progress” dashboard.

The picture below shows the breadcrumb trail for a type B- human participants, minimum risk proposal milestone. It shows that the student has submitted the proposal milestone. It shows that the Graduate Program Assistant (GPA) has reviewed it. It shows that the FGS (Faculty of Graduate Studies) has reviewed it. And it shows that the ORE (Office of Research Ethics) has reviewed it. It shows that the proposal milestone is now sitting at the “Dean Review” stage.

The circles that are coloured green signal that the proposal milestone has passed successfully through that step. The circle that is coloured blue indicates that the proposal milestone is at this step. The blue circle means that this step is currently in progress.
Cancelling a Proposal Milestone:
Note that you can cancel your proposal milestone at any time before a decision is made. Click on the “cancel button” and press “execute” to confirm the cancellation.

Office of Research Ethics:

Some of the research types require review and approval by the Office of Research Ethics (ORE). You will receive an email notifying you if your package has been sent to the ORE. The picture below shows an email to a student and a Graduate Program Assistant. The email notifies them that the proposal milestone package has been sent to the ORE:

Notice of ORE Review

```plaintext
Graduate-Studies-Proposal-Milestone-Notification@yorku.ca

To: eaas0001@my.yorku.ca; Anne Stebbins

Dear EAAStestFN0001 EAAStestLN0001,

This is to confirm that your proposal milestone (B - Human participants, minimum risk) has been submitted to the Office of Research Ethics. Please allow 20 business days for processing. If you have any questions please contact the Research Ethics Review Coordinator at ORE@yorku.ca.

Thank you,

The Faculty of Graduate Studies

The ORE will send you an email with an attached research certificate when your research ethics package is approved by their office. After that, the ORE returns your research package to FGS where the Associate Dean will review it. You will receive an email once the Dean approves your proposal. This email confirms that you can now begin your research, and this is the end of the process.
You will receive an email confirming the approval of the proposal milestone.

Proposal Milestone Approval

Hi EAAStestFN0001 EAAStestLN0001 [217051400],

The Proposal Milestone submitted on 07/08/2024 at 13:07 has now been approved by the Faculty of Graduate Studies.

You can now proceed with your research as proposed. Please note that you must remain registered as active in a graduate program while conducting approved research with human participants, animals, and/or biological agents.

Graduate students on leave or who have withdrawn from their graduate program with an approved research protocol on record may not conduct/continue to conduct any research with human participants, animals, and/or biological agents, until such time that their student registration status becomes active.

If you have further questions about this research protocol, please contact ORE@yorku.ca or the Faculty of Graduate Studies Research Officer – FGSRO@yorku.ca.

Best,
The Faculty of Graduate Studies

The approved proposal milestone will appear under the dashboard ‘Completed Proposal Milestones.’
