Course Description and Learning Outcomes:	Course Description This course will cover a variety of topics in the domain of human memory. Classic and current theories and studies on human memory will be presented, focusing on the processes and systems involved in encoding, storage, and retrieval, as well as the errors of memory and the importance of memory in our everyday lives. Students will have the opportunity to discuss and critique current research with regard to the investigation of human memory. Learning Outcomes Upon completion of this course, students should be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Demonstrate in-depth knowledge in the psychology of memory. 2. Articulate trends in the psychology of memory. 3. Express knowledge of the psychology of memory in written form. 4. Describe and explain limits to generalizability of research findings in memory. 5. Demonstrate ability to relate information in memory to own and others' life experiences. Prerequisites: HH/PSYC 1010 6.00 (Introduction to Psychology), with a minimum grade of C choices, that are based on two separate topics within the assigned readings for that week. Questions that are novel and thoughtful, relevant to the assigned readings, and accurate will receive full credit. The top two questions from each week will be included on the term test, representing an advantage for the individuals who created the chosen questions. The purpose of designing exam questions is to encourage students to complete assigned readings prior to class and to think deeply about the course content. Questions must be submitted via the 'Assignments' module on the day that the topic is covered. Late submissions will not be accepted.

2. Term Tests: There will be three equally weighted, non-cumulative tests. The first two will take place during class time and the third will take place during the official exam period. All three tests will last 2 hours and will consist of multiple-choice questions, true/false questions or definitions, and short-answer questions. The tests will include material from the readings (i.e., Baddeley et al. text) and from lectures, even if it was not covered in the readings.

3. Grading Scale:

The grading scheme for the course conforms to the 9-point grading system used in undergraduate programs at York (e.g., A+ = 9, A = 8, B+ = 7, C+ = 5, etc.). Assignments and tests will bear either a letter grade designation or a corresponding number grade:

90-100	A+	60-64	C
80-89	A	55-59	D+
75-79	B+	50-54	D
70-74	B	40-49	E
65-69	C+	0-39	F

Both E and F are failing grades.

(For a full description of York grading system see the York University Undergraduate Calendar - <http://calendars.students.yorku.ca/2016-2017/academic-and-financial-information/academic-services/grades-and-grading-schemes>)

ACADEMIC POLICIES

Missed deadlines

1. Appropriate documentation verifying the circumstances for the missed question exercise or term test deadline must be provided within one week (7 calendar days) of the missed item. Failure to provide appropriate documentation will result in a grade of 0. One of the following forms of documentation stating the reason for missing the test or exam deadline MUST be provided:

(A) Question exercise and term test deadlines missed for medical reasons must be supported by an Attending Physician's Statement. The Attending Physician's Statement must:

- (i) Include the full name, mailing address and telephone number of the physician
- (ii) State the nature of the illness and its duration and
- (iii) Include a statement that the illness and/or treatment would have SERIOUSLY affected the student's ability to study and perform over the period in question, not just that they were ill and were seen by a doctor. Notes without such wording will not be accepted.

NOTE: The instructor, TA, and/or psychology undergraduate office will follow-up on medical notes. Falsification of any documentation relating to absence from an exam or course assignment is a serious academic offence (see “Academic Policies” below).

(B) Tests or exams missed for non-medical reasons must be supported by appropriate documentation (i.e., copy of a death certificate, automobile accident report, etc.) Pre-booked travel is not a reasonable excuse for missing a test or exam.

2. In the case of a missed test deadline that is justified as per 1A or 1B above, the grade component will be re-distributed.

Note: Students with a documented reason for missing a course test, such as illness, compassionate grounds, etc., which is confirmed by supporting documentation (Attending Physician Statement which can be found at: <http://registrar.yorku.ca/pdf/attending-physicians-statement.pdf>) may request accommodation from the Course Instructor. Further extensions or accommodation will require students to submit a formal petition to the Faculty.

Department policy on missed tests or examinations should be followed

Test Banks:

The offering for sale of, buying of, and attempting to sell or buy test banks (banks of test questions and/or answers), or any course specific test questions/answers is not permitted in the Faculty of Health. Any student found to be doing this may be considered to have breached the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty. In particular, buying and attempting to sell banks of test questions and/or answers may be considered as “Cheating in an attempt to gain an improper advantage in an academic evaluation” (article 2.1.1 from the Senate Policy) and/or “encouraging, enabling or causing others” (article 2.1.10 from the Senate Policy) to cheat.

Electronic Devices During a Test/Examination:

Electronic mobile devices of any kind are not allowed during a test or examination. Students are required to turn off and secure any electronic mobile device in their bag which is to be placed under the chair while a test/exam is in progress. Any student observed with an electronic device during a test/exam may be reported to the Undergraduate Office for a potential breach of Academic Honesty.

Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities:

While all individuals are expected to satisfy the requirements of their program of study and to aspire to do so at a level of excellence, the university recognizes that persons with disabilities may require reasonable accommodation to enable them to do so. The York University Accessibility Hub is your online stop for accessibility on campus. The Accessibility Hub provides tools, assistance and resources.

Policy Statement

Policy: York University shall make reasonable and appropriate accommodations and adaptations in order to promote the ability of students with disabilities to fulfill the academic requirements of their programs.

The nature and extent of accommodations shall be consistent with and supportive of the integrity of the curriculum and of the academic standards of programs or courses.

Provided that students have given sufficient notice about their accommodation needs, instructors shall take reasonable steps to accommodate these needs in a manner consistent with the guidelines established hereunder.
