Course Description
In this seminar centres on a critical analysis of the concept of human nature. Rather than advocate one particular theory, we will explore the history of several competing interpretations, examining their scientific basis and cultural resonance. What constitutes human nature? Is it the same thing as one’s psychology? Who has had the expertise to speak about human nature? What counts as evidence of human nature? Are questions about human nature scientific or do they more properly belong to another realm of knowledge? A major focus of the seminar is the close, critical reading of scholar texts, in identifying, evaluating, and debating the arguments presented.

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:
1. Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of theories of human nature.
2. Critically evaluate, synthesize and resolve conflicting results in theories of human nature.
4. Locate research articles on theories of human nature and show critical thinking about research findings.
5. Express knowledge of theories of human nature in written form.
7. Demonstrate an ability to work with others.

Description of Assignments

Major Research Assignment:

Over the course of the year, you will complete a major research assignment that will progress through a variety of stages. I will be expected to submit a research proposal, present the material orally in class, submit a draft of the introduction, and revise it in light of comments from the instructors.
Oral Presentation:

Each week in the syllabus lists 1 to 3 topics identified for further discussion. Students are expected to offer one (1) oral presentation during the course of the academic on one of these topics. Presentations are approximately 20 minutes. The topic selection for the oral presentation will form the basis for the research paper. In the presentation, you are expected to explain what the keyword means, give the class a sense of the topic’s significance, and connect it to the week’s theme and readings. Students are encouraged to use audio-visual materials to supplement their presentations.

Your oral presentation will be evaluated by both the instructor (15%) and your peers (5%).

Major Research Paper:

Your major research paper is based on the topic you select for your in-class oral presentation. Instead of the oral presentation’s focus on the facts relating to your topic, your research paper should been organized around an argument or interpretation. The goal is to move from who and what type questions to how and why.

Proposal:

Your proposal should identify your topics, the research questions that are guiding your reading, and an annotated bibliography. The annotated bibliography will include at least 5 peer reviewed titles. Most encyclopaedia entries and websites are not peer reviewed. If you have any questions about your sources, please consult with the instructor before submitting the proposal.

Paper:

The paper should be 10-12 pages in length, including references. This draft should have at least 8 different academic sources. The paper should use both primary and secondary sources. In other words, you are expected to consult the original studies as well as how they have been discussed, taken up, and criticized in the subsequent literature.

Class Format and Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend every seminar meeting having completed the week’s assigned readings.

Grading as per Senate Policy

The grading scheme for the course conforms to the 9-point grading system used in undergraduate programs at York (e.g., A+ = 9, A = 8, B+ = 7, C+ = 5, etc.). Assignments and tests* will bear either a letter grade designation or a corresponding number grade (e.g. A+ = 90 to 100, A = 80 to 89, B+ = 75 to 79, etc.)
For a full description of York grading system see the York University Undergraduate Calendar – Grading Scheme for 2022-23

Missed Tests/Midterm Exams/Late Assignment

For any late assignment, students MUST complete the following online form which will be received and reviewed in the Psychology undergraduate office. At this time, due to COVID-19 an Attending Physician’s Statement (APS) is not required, however, a reason for missing an evaluated component in the course must be provided.

HH PSYC: Missed Tests/Exams Form.

Unexcused late assignments will be penalized at 5% per day.

Add and Drop Deadline Information

There are deadlines for adding and dropping courses, both academic and financial. Since, for the most part, the dates are different, be sure to read the information carefully so that you understand the differences between the sessional dates below and the Refund Tables.

You are strongly advised to pay close attention to the "Last date to enrol without permission of course instructor" deadlines. These deadlines represent the last date students have unrestricted access to the registration and enrolment system.

After that date, you must contact the professor/department offering the course to arrange permission.

You can drop courses using the registration and enrolment system up until the last date to drop a course without receiving a grade (drop deadline).
You may withdraw from a course using the registration and enrolment system after the drop deadline until the last day of class for the term associated with the course. When you withdraw from a course, the course remains on your transcript without a grade and is notated as 'W'. The withdrawal will not affect your grade point average or count towards the credits required for your degree.

students with disabilities to register with Student Accessibility Services (SAS) to discuss their accommodation needs as early as possible in the term to establish the recommended academic accommodations that will be communicated to Course Directors as necessary. Please let me know as early as possible in the term if you anticipate requiring academic accommodation so that we can discuss how to consider your accommodation needs within the context of this course.
