Description of Assignments

1) Weekly EClass Quizzes: There will be Weekly EClass Quizzes that will assess student knowledge based on pre-seminar materials (i.e., textbook reading, and multimedia links).

Weekly EClass Quizzes must be completed before the associated in-person seminar. You can complete the quiz anytime during the week leading up to the lecture. The deadline to complete weekly quizzes will be Wednesday at 11:00am (30 minutes prior to the start of class), starting September 14, 2022. After this time, students will continue to have access to EClass Activities, but the quiz will be closed. For specific dates and associated content of quizzes, see the Course Schedule on EClass.

Given that students may have unforeseen conflicts wherein they are unable to complete pre-seminar materials prior to the Seminar, a subset of weekly quizzes will be used towards the final grade (best 70 % of grades).

2) Live Seminar Attendance and Participation. Students who attend and participate in seminars tend to get more out of courses, learning from the classmates and from direct interactions with the Course Director. Beginning on September 21, 2022, attendance will be recorded and meaningful participation monitored.

Given that students may have unforeseen conflicts wherein they are unable to attend the Live Zoom Seminar, a subset of weekly participation will be used towards the final grade (best 70 % of grades).

3) Case Study Presentation Students will deliver an oral presentation during class on an assigned clinical cases. See “Cases” section on EClass. Students will present content for 15 minutes (MAX) and then facilitate a 5-minute Question and Answer period.

The goal of the presentation is to lead the class in a discussion of a clinical case example of the specific disorders discussed in class. Students will start by briefly presenting pertinent information and connecting the background information and symptomology to DSM-5 criteria. The core of the presentation should present potential treatment options, and selection of an appropriate treatment plan based on the particular case background information. The presentation will be graded on the quality of the information in the presentation and the student’ ability to engage the class by providing a lively presentation, responding to class questions and generating class discussion. Use of creative engagement within the is encouraged. Selection of cases will occur during the class of September 28, 2022.

4) My Virtual Child – Weekly Group Discussion Post (Asynchronous): Students will be assigned into groups and will engage in a weekly written discussion group on EClass. In groups, students will discuss the decisions they make in their parenting, patterns they observe in their child, challenges they face, and so on. Each week a specific discussion question will be posted. The discussion board will be monitored weekly by the TA for meaningful participation.

5) My Virtual Child – Reflection Paper: Students will write a 5-page paper reflecting on their experience, to date, raising a virtual child. The core of the paper will involve using course material (i.e., EClass modules and the textbook) to describe the developmental trajectory that your child and how changes to the child and/or their environment may have led the child to follow a more atypical trajectory.

6) My Virtual Child –Speed Presentations: The purpose of the presentation is to provide your classmates with an introduction and analysis of your Virtual Child. You will be assessed on your critical analysis skills, demonstrated knowledge of course content, appeal and creativity of your visuals, and oral presentation of your content. Your presentation will be 5 minutes max (and will be timed), so the challenge is to convey your main points clearly and concisely. Each presentation will be followed by an open panel question period. Presentations will occur in smaller groups (i.e., max of 15 per session) to encourage more student participation and engagement. Each student will be responsible for peer review of the student presentations in their session. Presentations will be graded for accuracy and completeness of information, visual appeal and creativity, and oral presentation of the contents.

7) Peer Evaluation of Posters: Students will be required to provide peer evaluation and feedback for all of their classmates posters. This feedback will be provided to the poster presenters.

Class Format and Attendance Policy

Students who attend and participate in seminars tend to get more out of courses, learning from the classmates and from direct interactions with the Course Director. Beginning on September 21, 2022, attendance will be recorded and meaningful participation monitored.
