Course Description

In this course students will learn about the scientific study of personality. Students will learn current theories about personality and the tools that scientists use to test those theories. In doing so, students will learn how to measure personality, how personality develops, and how personality psychology permeates other psychological disciplines.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

1. Demonstrate broad knowledge of psychological determinants of personality.
2. Describe and evaluate current theory and research in personality psychology.
3. Understand and interpret principles of personality psychology in everyday life.
4. Define causes of human personality from different perspectives.

Description of course components

This course will have course components that we all do together at the same time (i.e., synchronous) and course components that students do on their own time (i.e., asynchronous). This course is organized into six components: Lectures, Article Evaluations, Discussion Boards, Class Activities, and Tests.

Lectures

Lectures will be asynchronous. Recorded lectures will be accessible via the course page on eClass. Lectures should be watched each week.

Article Evaluation Assignments

Article Evaluation Assignments will be asynchronous. You are to complete 5 article evaluations over the course of the semester. Submissions portals open each Tuesday starting at 8:30am, and stay upon for one week (see course schedule). There will be 10 submission portals in total, and students are expected to submit to any 5 of the 10 portals. No late submissions, extensions or additional submission portals will be provided for any reason as this course component is already extremely flexible and design to accommodate any technology, personal, or unforeseen circumstances. Each article assessment will involve finding a news article, blog post, or social media post from your typical news feed that is relevant to personality psychology. Once you have read the article, you will write a half page evaluating the merits of the post in the context of current scientific thinking about personality. The purpose of this assignment is to get you to start looking for connections with the material in your everyday lives. For much more detail (including rubric) please see Article Evaluation Instructions on eClass.

Discussion Boards

Discussion Boards will be asynchronous. Students are expected to contribute to bi-weekly discussion boards. Each discussion board will be active each Tuesday at 8:30am and stay open for two weeks (see course schedule). No late submissions, extensions or additional discussion board time will be provided for any reason as this course component is already designed to accommodate any technology, personal, or unforeseen circumstances. Each discussion board will be graded based on students response to the discussion topics, connections to the course and everyday life, responses to peers, and overall quality. For much more detail (including rubric) please see Discussion Board Instructions on eClass.

Class Activities

Class Activities will take synchronously. Students are highly encouraged to participate in the classroom activities. Class activities will take place on a synchronized Zoom meeting on most Tuesdays at 8:30am. Students who participate in class activities will get access to personalized reports including a personality report about their personality using validated measurement tools.

Tests

Tests will be synchronous. Test will take place during the scheduled course time and administered using eClass. Tests are to be done individually and without external resources unless explicitly approved by the course instructor as part of academic accommodations.

Grading as per Senate Policy

The grading scheme for the course conforms to the 9-point grading system used in undergraduate programs at York (e.g., A+ = 9, A = 8, B+ = 7, C+ = 5, etc.). Assignments and tests* will bear either a letter grade designation or a corresponding number grade (e.g. A+ = 90 to 100, A = 80 to 89, B+ = 75 to 79, etc.)

For a full description of York grading system see the York University Undergraduate Calendar - Grading Scheme for 2020-21

Missed Tests/Midterm Exams/Late Assignment:

For any missed test, students MUST complete the following online form which will be received and reviewed in the Psychology undergraduate office. At this time, due to COVID-19 an Attending Physician's Statement (APS) is not required, however, a reason for missing an evaluated component in the course must be provided.

HH PSYC: Missed Tests/Exams Form. Failure to complete the form within 48 hours of the original deadline will result in a grade of zero for the missed test.

Add/Drop Deadlines

For a list of all important dates please refer to: Fall/Winter 2020-21 Important Dates

	Fall (F)	Year (Y)	Winter (W)
Last date to add a course without permission of instructor (also see Financial Deadlines)	Sept 22.	Sept 22.	Jan. 25
Last date to add a course with permission of instructor (also see Financial Deadlines)	Oct. 6	Oct. 27	Feb. 8
Drop deadline: Last date to drop a course without receiving a grade (also see Financial Deadlines)	Nov. 6	Feb. 5	March 12

Course Withdrawal Period (withdraw from a course and receive a grade of “W” on transcript – see note below)	Nov. 7- Dec. 8	Feb. 6 – April 12	March 13- April 12

Add and Drop Deadline Information

There are deadlines for adding and dropping courses, both academic and financial. Since, for the most part, the dates are different, be sure to read the information carefully so that you understand the differences between the sessional dates below and the Refund Tables.

You are strongly advised to pay close attention to the "Last date to enrol without permission of course instructor" deadlines. These deadlines represent the last date students have unrestricted access to the registration and enrolment system.

After that date, you must contact the professor/department offering the course to arrange permission.

You can drop courses using the registration and enrolment system up until the last date to drop a course without receiving a grade (drop deadline).

You may withdraw from a course using the registration and enrolment system after the drop deadline until the last day of class for the term associated with the course. When you withdraw from a course, the course remains on your transcript without a grade and is notated as 'W'. The withdrawal will not affect your grade point average or count towards the credits required for your degree.

Information on Plagiarism Detection

To promote academic integrity in this course, students will be normally required to submit their written assignments to Turnitin (via the course Moodle) for a review of textual similarity and the detection of possible plagiarism. In so doing, students will allow their material to be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database, where they will be used only for the purpose of detecting plagiarism. The terms that apply to the University’s use of the Turnitin service are described on the Turnitin.com website.

Electronic Device Policy

This course will be delivered in an online format and therefore electronic devices (e.g., tablets, laptops) as permitted during class time for course-related purposes. It is expected that you would complete tests/exams in a manner that does not require consulting an unauthorised source during an examination.

Academic Integrity for Students

York University takes academic integrity very seriously; please familiarize yourself with Information about the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty.

It is recommended that you review Academic Integrity by completing the Academic Integrity Tutorial and Academic Honesty Quiz

Test Banks

The offering for sale of, buying of, and attempting to sell or buy test banks (banks of test questions and/or answers), or any course specific test questions/answers is not permitted in the Faculty of Health. Any student found to be doing this may be considered to have breached the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty. In particular, buying and attempting to sell banks of test questions and/or answers may be considered as “Cheating in an attempt to gain an improper advantage in an academic evaluation” (article 2.1.1 from the Senate Policy) and/or “encouraging, enabling or causing others” (article 2.1.10 from the Senate Policy) to cheat.

Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities

While all individuals are expected to satisfy the requirements of their program of study and to aspire to do so at a level of excellence, the university recognizes that persons with disabilities may require reasonable accommodation to enable them to do so. The university encourages students with disabilities to register with Student Accessibility Services (SAS) to discuss their accommodation needs as early as possible in the term to establish the recommended academic accommodations that will be communicated to Course Directors as necessary. Please let me know as early as possible in the term if you anticipate requiring academic accommodation so that we can discuss how to consider your accommodation needs within the context of this course.

Excerpt from Senate Policy on Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities:

1. Pursuant to its commitment to sustaining an inclusive, equitable community in which all members are treated with respect and dignity, and consistent with applicable accessibility legislation, York University shall make reasonable and appropriate accommodations in order to promote the ability of students with disabilities to fulfill the academic requirements of their programs. This policy aims to eliminate systemic barriers to participation in academic activities by students with disabilities.

All students are expected to satisfy the essential learning outcomes of courses. Accommodations shall be consistent with, support and preserve the academic integrity of the curriculum and the academic standards of courses and programs. For further information please refer to: York University Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities Policy.
