Fall-By Elections Update

New College's fall by-elections was a great success this year! New College wants to thank all the members of our community that participated this year, which includes people who voted and people who ran for the respective positions. I would like to acknowledge that my experience of being part of the New College Council has been great. Whether it is social, athletics, or academic events, I have always felt welcomed by the community. Things I have learned from being in my position, and experiences that I've gained from being part of the New College Council, has helped me make great memories. As some great NC legends have quoted "What a time", I would say this quote strongly represents my experience on Council. I would like to encourage all members of our community to stay involved and possibly run for the winter elections as this election determines the incoming Council for next year. If you are unsure of whether to run or not, just run for a position as it is a great opportunity and something that is also great to put on your resume. If you have any questions, I am more than happy to answer them, so please feel free to contact me at cro@newcollegecouncil.com

Wishing all the Eagles a great rest of the year,

William Warrick

APAA: The accounting club where everyone counts

The Atkinson Professional Accounting Association (APAA), a student run organization founded in 1998, serves to encourage leadership, professionalism, and excellence in the School of Administrative Studies. Most APAA members are ADMS students who are working toward their Bachelor of Commerce degree, and are interested in a career in the accounting work-field.

For many years APAA has hosted events at York University. The events APAA has hosted so far, in the 2019-2020 school year, includes:

ALUMNI NIGHT

In May 2019, Our new executive team had kicked off their tenure by hosting a networking night at Marche Movenpick. This event gave APAA members the opportunity to network with alumni of the Administrative studies Bachelor of Commerce program and receive appreciated advice from them. The night was a success and saw over 30 people attend the event.

GRANT THORTON NETWORKING NIGHT

In September 2019, APAA kicked off the new school year by inviting representatives of Grant Thornton to the meet their members. This gave members the opportunity to have meaningful discussions with professionals from the tax and audit departments and find out more about the fields. It was also an opportunity to network with potential recruiters and interviewers.

YORKFEST FESTIVAL VILLAGE

Also, in September, APAA was part of the clubs that were tabling at the York Fest Festival Village. This event allowed executives meet and communicate with students who were interested in getting involved with clubs at York. It also allowed executives communicate what APAA represents and its mission to York students. It was a successful event and saw APAA gain 30 new members.

UPCOMING EVENTS

In the intent to help students, APAA will continue hosting events through out the school year. There will be the annual AIM conference in November, which will have guests who are successful alumni members who will pass on advice. There would also be workshops on building resumes, interviews and networking ; APAA would also like to provide students with volunteering opportunities. You can keep up to date on all these events and networking opportunities by joining the club. You can find out more by going to the APAA website - www.yuapaa.com

Experience of being part of HRSA Club

-Jessica Cianfarani

Associate VP of Events

Human Resources Student Association

Being part of HRSA has been such a wonderful experience. I have learned so much through being a HRSA executive, and it has made me more knowledgeable about human resources. I think it is important to be involved with the academic clubs at York U. It can offer students guidance and knowledge about their future career. Also, joining clubs can give opportunity for students to meet people who are in the same program as them and allows them to network.

So far in the 2019-2020 school year, we have had an RBC Event and a Career Panel Event. Both have been an incredible success. The RBC Event and the Career Panel Event consist of alumni who talk about entering the workforce and sharing their experiences in HR. It is important for us, university students, to learn from graduates who have been in the same position as us. We can hear their stories and get inspiration to make the right decisions and gain more confidence. Also, HRSA hosts other events that focus on topics such as resume building and interview skills, which are extremely beneficial. Everyone can apply these skills no matter what program they are in; It is not just for HR students. It is a great way to improve your resume and make new friends. If you want to enhance your resume, then join us in our upcoming resume workshop that will be held in the winter term.

Overall HRSA is a great way to get to know more about your program and provide opportunity. Please stay tuned by following our social media to know about our next upcoming events. Everyone is welcome.

-Anthony McDermott

Associate VP of Marketing

Human Resources Student Association

Clubs and student associations provide unique opportunities for students to practice real life management skills, and to test their ideas, in a practical setting. Memberships in your early years of University can be a great means of learning from senior students and increasing your network. For instance, I am a member of Human Resources Student Association (HRSA).

Despite myself not being a HR student, it has helped me connect to different professionals and learn of new employee opportunities. Aside from the professional experience, joining and participating in club events are a great way to make friends and keep yourself busy. In my last year of studying at York, after switching between campuses and degrees, the best thing I urge every student to do is get involved in your community and participate in clubs and student associations.
