Minor Change Description

1. What is the proposed change?
2. How does this change affect the program?

Change to calendar description: The HRM Minor program may be combined with an approved program that offers a major/minor option in six different faculties. We would like to add Glendon to the list of approved faculties in the calendar description.

Academic Rationale

1. How does this change clarify requirements or options for students?
2. How does this change contribute to program identity or coherence?
3. How does the change affect the program's effectiveness at preparing students to meet the program learning outcomes?

Glendon students are not permitted to combine their major program with a minor in LA&PS. However, Glendon has a petition process in place for those students who wish to add a minor outside their faculty. Previously, Glendon students have contacted the School of HRM for a letter of support as part of their petition. The School's director, David Doorey, had granted permission for these students to add the HRM minor. Adding Glendon to the list of approved faculties will clarify to interested students that with the approval of their home faculty, they may enrol in the minor.

The HRM program and its related courses are unique within the university. There is no overlap between HRM and any program currently offered through Glendon. Therefore, we would like to add Glendon to the list of approved faculties for the Minor.
