9th National Student Paper Competition

The Canada School of Public Service (CSPS), in partnership with the Institute of Public Administration of Canada (IPAC) and the Canadian Association of Programs in Public Administration (CAPPA), is proud to announce the 9th edition of the National Student Paper Competition (NSPC), on December 10, 2021.

As in previous years, the competition invites Master's and PhD students of any program in Canada to provide fresh ideas for improving the federal public service and service excellence for Canadians. This year, participants are encouraged to address the challenges public service of Canada is facing towards recovery from COVID-19 pandemic. But, as in previous editions, the competition will also welcome submissions on any other issues relevant to the Public Service of Canada.

Please note that we have made significant changes to simplify the paper submission procedure this year, among others:

- the role of university coordinator has been abolished. Therefore, students who wish to submit an essay are asked to contact a professor in their department who will endorse their submission and submit the essay on their behalf.
- the professors will be requested to submit directly the papers by email to the CSPS NSPC Team before February 21, 2022.

For more details on the competition guidelines and timelines, please consult the CSPS website, as well as the documents attached to this email. Would you have any questions or comments, please reach out to us at nspc-cneu@cspc-efpc.gc.ca.

Keynote

Dr. Linda Colley
Shelby M.C Davis 1958
Professor of History Princeton

Author of The Gun, the Ship, and the Pen: Warfare, Constitutions, and the Making of the Modern World (2021)

About this event

Given that the pandemic has required us to move this year's conference online, we have, gain, eliminated registration fees for this year.

We are looking forward to reconvening in person next year, even as we recognize some of the virtues of virtual conferences.

A preliminary program is available on our website.
