We are hiring!

The School of Public Policy and Administration invites qualified candidates to apply for a professorial stream tenure-track appointment in Indigenous Governance in Canada at the Assistant Professor level, to commence July 1, 2023. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. All York University positions are subject to budgetary approval.

Recognizing the underrepresentation of Indigenous faculty, this opportunity is part of the University's Affirmative Action program that has been developed based on the special program provisions of the Ontario Human Rights Code. Selection will be limited to individuals who self-identify as Indigenous. To receive full consideration, candidates should complete and submit a self-identification form as part of York University's Affirmative Action program.

Application deadline: November 30, 2022

Our 2022 High School Essay Contest Is Now Open!

What do Indigenous land acknowledgements mean to you?

Share your thoughts and reflect on Indigenous land acknowledgements in Canada, their meaning and the change you hope they will bring about in society and in terms of how they can shape and impact public policy.

Eligibility Criteria: High school students in grades 10-12 are invited to participate. Individual submissions or co-authored essays by up to 3 authors will be considered. The essays should be 500-1000 words (1-2 pages) in length.

Prizes: The authors of the three highest ranked essays, along with their parent(s) or other designated guest(s), will be invited to the School's annual Student, Alumni, and Community Recognition Awards Dinner taking place on Thursday November 24, 2022 at York University. The essay winners will also receive a monetary reward: $200 for the 1st place, $150 for the 2nd place and $100 for the 3rd place.

Process: A group of faculty, current students and alumni from the School of Public Policy and Administration will review the essays and nominate 3 winners. Essays can be submitted online no later than Monday October 24, 2022.

Please help spread the word about our high school essay contest on social media - re-tweet from @YorkuSPPA and/or tag <http://sppa.laps.yorku.ca/students/high-school-essay-contest/>

Government of Canada Advanced Policy Analyst Program

The Advanced Policy Analyst Program (APAP) is a challenging three year professional and leadership development program designed to develop economic and public policy analysts. It offers recent master's level graduates an unparalleled opportunity in the federal public service.

In Year 1 and 2 of the APAP, participants gain knowledge and first-hand experience by rotating through a series of four challenging six-month placements across the three central agencies—the Privy Council Office, the Department of Finance, and the Treasury Board Secretariat—and a line department in the National Capital Region (typically the participant's sponsoring department).

During these placements, participants will have an opportunity to analyze and impact on a variety of social, economic and international policy issues and gain work experience that would otherwise take the better part of a career to develop. The combination of hands-on work experience and training provides participants with a unique introduction to a rewarding career and a chance to serve Canada and Canadians.

In Year 3, participants return to their sponsoring department to further hone their policy skills.

Upon completion of the program, APAP participants have become valuable assets for the government—able to develop and analyze policies, play the central agency challenge function, and successfully navigate the policy development process.

Applications close October 31, 2022.
