Memorandum

To: Non-tenured faculty members

From: Vivian Saridakis, Associate Dean – Research & Graduate Education

Date: October 18, 2021

Subject: Junior Faculty Fund

---

All junior (untenured as of July 1, 2021) full-time faculty members in the Faculty of Science who are in the probationary/tenured or continuing appointment classifications are invited to submit applications for a special research fund competition – the Junior Faculty Fund (JFF). Proposals will be considered for research travel (economy fare), seed money, limited emergency support, laboratory equipment and student support.

Applications are to be submitted on a single page and should include the following:

1. Applicant Information (Name, Department, Building/Room, Email).
2. A description of the research project, including funding level required.
3. A comment on the benefit of the project to the individual and to the Department / University.
4. Any other sources of funding for the research project.

Please note that a CV should not be submitted and that awards from the fund in the Faculty of Science, depending on the number of applicants, will normally be of the order of several hundred dollars.

Applications will be reviewed and awards recommended by the Faculty's Research Office, normally within three weeks of the application deadline. Electronic applications must be submitted no later than 4:00 pm on December 1, 2021 to Stefanie Bernaudo, Research Officer (fscro@yorku.ca).
