

Assistant Professor, Teaching Stream in Athletic Therapy
School of Kinesiology and Health Science, Faculty of Health

The School of Kinesiology and Health Science in the Faculty of Health at York University invites highly qualified applicants for an Assistant Professor, Teaching Stream position in Athletic Therapy, with on-field expertise. This is a teaching-centred, tenure-track appointment to commence July 1, 2024.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and/or graduate courses and to provide creative educational leadership in enhancing teaching and learning through curricular and pedagogical innovation in the classroom and at the program level. As well, curricular and pedagogical innovations in the classroom and applied settings must reflect relevant evidence informed practices across the entire spectrum of the Athletic Therapy profession.

Candidate Qualifications:

- Degree: Candidates must hold a PhD or PhD completed by appointment date of July 1, 2024 in Kinesiology or a related field.
- Teaching:
 - A record or evident promise of excellence in teaching and dedication to students (e.g., teaching accomplishments, pedagogical innovations, student and/or peer evaluations) in on-field emergency care skills, assessment, and management of sideline injuries, and prophylactic and rehabilitative (taping and bracing) skills).
 - Strong commitment to pedagogy and student success, the capacity to bring a theoretical and practical orientation to athletic therapy teaching, learning and program design, and evidence of good judgment and a reflective approach to innovation in teaching. Experience with curriculum development and universal design approaches to teaching and assessment is preferred.
 - Suitability for prompt appointment to the Faculty of Graduate Studies, given that the position may involve graduate teaching and supervision.
- Additional: Certified Athletic Therapist (CAT(C)) with the Canadian Athletic Therapists Association (CATA).
 - Current certification as a First Responder with the Canadian Red Cross (or equivalent).
 - Demonstrated record of experience in on-field emergency care skills, assessment, and management of sideline injuries, and prophylactic and rehabilitative (taping and bracing) skills as a Certified Athletic Therapist is required.
 - A record or evident promise of making valuable contributions through administrative and committee service.
 - Experience working as the lead or assistant athletic therapist with sports teams at the amateur and/or professional level is considered an asset.
